During the calendar year ending December 31, 1903, the number of volumes actually received (including exchanges) was 25,803, and of pamphlets, 70,258.

The number of volumes catalogued was 43,857, and of pamphlets, 34,583. The total number of cards written was 141,993.

The total number of readers during the calendar year was 174,248, and the number of volumes consulted was 468,457, not including those used at the free reference shelves.

There are now on the shelves of the Astor and Lenox Branches of the Library, available for readers, 614,293 volumes and 232,962 pamphlets.

CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT.

During the calendar year ending December 31, 1903, the number of volumes circulated for home use was 2,788,566; the number of readers consulting books from the shelves was 349,451; the number of new registrations was 43,476; the number of readers (minors) was 218,073; the number of readers (total) was 507,601; the number of volumes accessioned was 22,223, giving a total on the shelves of the department available for readers of 332,177 volumes.

The number of circulation branches has been increased to 22, by the addition on December 31, 1903, of four formerly independent libraries: the Harlem Library and the Tottenville Library corporations consolidated with the New York Public Library, turning over to it their books and all other property; the University Settlement and the East Side Settlement (its library being known as the Webster Free Library) turned over their books and other library property. The Harlem library had on its shelves 24,333 volumes and had circulated in the year just passed 152,324 volumes; the Tottenville library, with 3,375 volumes, had circulated 14,733 volumes; the University Settlement library, with 5,479 volumes, had circulated 76,582; and the Webster Free Library, with 12,000 volumes, had circulated 106,468.

The accession of these libraries raises the total number of volumes circulated in 1903 from the 2,788,566 given above for 18 branches to 3,138,673 for 22 branches, and raises the number of volumes in the department to 377,364.

There is thus in the whole library a total of 1,224,619 pieces available for readers: 614,293 volumes and 232,962 pamphlets in the reference department and 377,364 volumes in the circulation department.

The most popular books of the month were (in non-fiction): Wagner's "Parsifal," Longfellow's Poems, Morley's "Life of Gladstone"; (in adult fiction): Rice's "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," Crawford's "Heart of Rome," Chambers's "Maids of Paradise"; (in juvenile fiction): Wiggin's "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," Alcott's "Little Women," Grimm's "Fairy Tales."

The important gifts received at the Library during the month of December were: From S. P. Avery, 10 volumes, 14 pamphlets, and 138 prints, the collection including works on bookbinding, "The work of John S. Sargent, R.A., with introductory note by Mrs. Meynell" (London, 1903), an etching, "The engraver," by Whistler, a drawing by Daubigny, etc.; from Henry J. Brown, a copy of G. Manville Fenn's "Memoir of Benjamin Franklin Stevens," 1903, privately printed; from the National Library of Argentina, 13 volumes of the National Register of the Republic; from Messrs. Burnz & Co., 20 volumes and 140 pamphlets, their own publications relating to phonography and spelling reform; from Dr. James R. Chadwick, two early New York art catalogues, "the Franklin Museum of Fine Arts" (22 April, 1824), and a catalogue of paintings for sale at auction by Robert M'Menomy at No. 18 Wall Street (25 October, 1821); from the publishers, Dodd, Mead & Co., a copy of their facsimile reprint of the Bay Psalm Book, printed at Cambridge by Stephen Daye in 1640, with an introduction by Wilberforce Eames (New York, 1903); from Mrs. Henry Draper, 73 volumes, including the Almanach des Muses, 1765-1833, Paris, 16 pamphlets and 1 print; from W. Butler Duncan, a copy of Adolphe Brisson's "Deux ministres de la guerre, Général Gallifet, Général André," lithographed in script, with autograph interlineations and comment by General Gallifet; from the Department of Public Works, Ecuador, 8 volumes and 1 pamphlet, statutes of Ecuador; from the Mayor of Madrid, 1 volume and 1 pamphlet, documents of the city; from Little, Brown & Co., 4 volumes, their recently published "Writings and speeches of Daniel Webster hitherto uncollected"; from the Post and Telegraph Department of New Zealand, 11 annual reports (1891/2-1902/3); from Henry W. Poor, "American bookbindings in the library of Henry W. Poor, described by Henry Pène du Bois," 1903 (no. 150 of 238 copies printed); from Plato Reussner, Warsaw, 5 volumes and 13 pamphlets, chiefly Polish books; from Charles Howland Russell, a copy of his "Memoir of Charles H. Russell, 1756-1884," New York, 1903; from Hon. John Boyd Thacher, a copy of "Awards at the World's Columbian Exposition, together with an appendix, in which will be found several papers relating to the same subject, Albany, Nov. 1, 1898," one of 7 copies privately printed, bound in Niger leather by Douglas Cockerell, of London; from the Victoria Legislative Assembly, 152 volumes of Votes and Proceedings from 1853 to 1897 (lacking only one session); and from the Western Union Telegraph Company, a file of the annual reports of the President from 1873/4, no. 2, to date.

The exhibition of Arundel color prints, the Pissaro etchings and also most of the Japanese prints were removed from exhibition at the Lenox Branch, and replaced by a collection of mezzotints loaned by J. P. Morgan, John L. Cadwalader, E. G. Kennedy, J. Harson Purdy, Richard M. Hoe, and some from the S. P. Avery collection belonging to the library, etc. A special catalogue of the exhibition has been prepared and put on sale at ten cents. At the Astor Branch the plates in the stands were changed to those from "Rembrandt: 17 of his masterpieces . . . in the Cassel Gallery" and "Handzeichnungen alter Meister aus der Albertina."

At the circulation branches the picture bulletins and reading lists were as follows:

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I have come here with my wife & children to pass a month at the seat of Sir Wm. Molesworth, & to escape public meetings & dinner parties. I am too far off from a railroad to be found out by deputations here. My object in troubling you is to ask whether you have yet got into your new house & how you like it? Did you have the house examined by a surveyor, to be sure that it will not tumble about your ears? I do not know when my wife will be able to come to see the house next to you; but we are still in the same mind about it. What is the number of the house we were looking at next to yours? Give my compliments to Lady Walmsley & believe me faithfully Yours

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I saw Mowatt & spoke to him about the D. N.* yesterday. He has just returned from the Continent. He does not seem to have changed in the least as to his disposition to sustain the paper, but he says his property is locked up a good deal in railways, & that he should have to make a great sacrifice now to lay his hands upon a thousand pounds. I am satisfied that this plea is bona fide, & not made with a view to evade the case. He promised to call upon Smith in Golden Square today in order to have a precise statement of the matter from him. I hope you have thrown aside your fastidiousness, & that you are disposed to canvass for allies. Can you find any body in Liverpool to cooperate? Would the Biggs of Leicester take a share or two?—The more I think of it the less do I like the prospect of losing the only paper that gives us a chance—& yet I do not see my way for being able to do much to support it. I shall expect to see you this week.

Believe me truly yours

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I have received a letter from Mr. Coulthard which I prefer answering to you, though the purport of my reply is of course equally intended for him. He makes a comparison between our scale of premiums & those charged by the "London" & the "North British" for industrial policies, & finding ours much the highest he infers that we could afford to give an increased remuneration to the agents for procuring business. The comparison would be worth something if we knew that those offices had been doing a business in the industrial branch, & had found it pay. But I suspect the scale of premiums in their tables merely runs nominally down to the smaller sums of £10 & £20, & that they have rarely issued any policies for those amounts. This is a very different question to whether, as in our case, a large industrial business would be profitable. We are bound I think to follow the calculations of our actuaries in this matter. Still I am always disposed to view with respect Mr. Coulthards suggestions; & we seem to be in that position which naturally makes us all look about us for some remedy. It is clear that if the industrial business falls still-born for want of canvassers, something must be done to meet the case, or we must abandon the undertaking altogether. Have you escaped from the deadlock at all since I left you? I mean is there any sign of life in any quarter, or are we still literally without another policy? My wife joins me in the kindest regards to Lady Walmsley Yourself & Ada, & the best wishes of the Xmas season & believe me

SIR JOSHUA WALMSLEY M P

Apropos of Grach—It has occurred to me that it will be well not to go too far without consulting the other directors. If I recollect rightly you, Mallaby, & I were the only parties present when it was resolved to have the 3 months trial of his cooperation. It will of course be necessary to give all the other Directors a voice in the matter before we finally decide, & the sooner they are individually consulted the better. I mean this merely to prevent jealousy. I have no doubt as to the desirability of having Grach for a Director. And nobody will I suppose object if you state your wish to have him at the Board on the ground that he lives always in Town, & I will be a constant attendant at the meetings & will insure you a quorum which you would otherwise sometimes not be able to secure.

P. S. Whittys article which you sent me is very good.

I have not yet been to see the Estate at Hazlemere. But I am sorry to say I have ascertained beyond doubt that it is clay where the house stands.

The weather is like April today here, & the birds are twittering & the flies buzzing. But I expect we shall have to pay a penalty for it yet.

MIDHURST 1 Apl 1855

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

Notwithstanding the very confident tone of our friend Lindsay respecting the proposed purchase of the Life Business of the Cattle Assurance Company, the more I reflect on it the more do I think the proposal worthy of consideration. Admitting even the force of his objection against our being a party to a loan of £10,000,—may not some other mode of carrying out the negotiation be devised?

The first & preliminary matter for consideration is as to the value of the business offered.—If it really be as Mr. Riley says a Life Assurance business amounting in premiums to about £700 to £1000 a year, that is of itself of a value easily estimated in pounds shillings & pence by actuaries. But I attach hardly less value to the other part of the offer viz. to transfer to us the services of nearly 1000 agents extending all over the agricultural districts. This, although not easily reduced to a money valuation, would be of immense advantage to us. It would put our Society forward a couple of years at least;—for at the rate at which we are going on I don't think we should get that in two years.

Assuming then that all that Mr. Riley reports from the Cattle Company be found verified on closest investigation (without which we should of course not take a further step) then the course I should suggest for your consideration is this. Make up your mind how much IN MONEY it would be desirable to pay for the business. Let us suppose £1500 for arguments sake. Then the question would arise—how could that bonus of £1500 be made available for raising £10,000 to be lent on loan for five years at 5 per Ct. to the Cattle Company.

Here arises the question as to the security they can give. Mr Riley says the Company as a corporate body & the directors, individually & collectively would all be joined in the bond,—& that some of the directors, whose names he mentioned are men of large property; amongst others the Chairman, who has loaned £10,000 to the Company at 10 per Ct. & who is alleged to be a man of large property, would join in the security for borrowing the money to pay off himself. Now assuming all this to be bona fide, don't you think that with a bonus of £1500 from us, we could find persons in the money market to lend £10,000 at 5 per Ct in such a necessity? Why inclusive of the bonus it would pay an interest of upwards of 8 per Ct. for 5 years. In my opinion if we find every thing to be as reported by Mr Riley we might carry out the transaction by some means or other, & I hope you will talk the matter over with Mr Mallaby when you see him. At all events don't let us drop all further inquiry in the spirit in which Lindsay met my remarks

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I spoke to Wilkinson about a subscription to the Kossuth fund—but found him disinclined. He spoke of the guarantee which he had given in conjunction with

Gilpin for a sum of money owing by Kossuth & which he will have to pay. He seemed sore & not to be softened & so I fear we shall have no success in that quarter. Recurring to the Subject of a Director for the Safety, I am of opinion that Bull would be a better man than Burton. His business is a wholesale one, & I believe a good deal of it in the West of England where he sends travellers. He must therefore have a wide connexion in all the Towns & might turn it to account. I wish you would try to see him, before Blythe makes any forward proposal to Burton. I have no objection as you may suppose to the latter on account of his being a retail dealer. But it may appear to the world & to some of our own sleeping partners as a proof of weakness if we do not find a merchant or wholesale trader to join us. This is between ourselves. If you see Ryley or hear from him I should be glad to know what he proposes, & if there be anything new at the Safety I shall be glad to hear it. I shall remain till friday. The sooner you move to the hills the better. Kind regards to Lady Walmsley & all yourself from Mrs. Cobden & myself & believe truly yours

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I got your letter & quite agree as to the propriety of having a Board meeting. I will come up any day when you can muster a quorum. The last months business & that of Oct. till now is not encouraging. I do not care for our moving slowly, but a certain speed is necessary to insure success at all. The war & the lately excited frenzy on the fall of Sebastopol have I suppose been interfering with business of every kind. The increased taxes leave people less to spend & less to save. When I see you I should like to talk upon a little matter which although trifling in itself I have always attached importance to. I mean putting forward in circulars, prospectuses, &c. the name of an Actuary as well as Secretary. It looks to my eye more business like—especially as Mr. Courthard with all his undoubted merits is not known to the trade. For in a business of such keen competition we suffer in our standing if we do not appear before the assurance world with a staff possessing technical knowledge & experience. I say this without at all differing from you as to the value of Mr. Courthard's services. I only want to see a business established in which they may have full scope. The enclosed page from the Athenæum will shew that other affairs do not lose sight of this little point.

Will you be good enough to tell me what is the law respecting the last call. Mine is not paid up. It is the worst moment to get hold of money without sacrificing in the process. But I wish to comply with the law. As I understand it the Board must give notice to defaulters & then a certain time forfeits the shares if unpaid. Is the notice compulsory? I hope you have all returned well

I have written to Colonel [James William] Fitzmayer, who is returned to Woolwich from the Crimea, to ask him to come & see me. He has not replied yet, & I hardly know for a day or two when my letter may reach him. But it has struck me that it would be agreeable to your son (who is going out) to meet him; & I merely write to say that if I can bring them together I shall be happy. When does he leave Worthing?

Ever yours

What a sad affair this is of poor Locke. There seems to be a fatality hanging over the members of the Safety Board. Have you any tidings of him?

MIDHURST 21 Nov 1855

MY DEAR WALMSLEY,

You are right in returning again from this to Chester, for it is the nearest railroad but do not make up your minds to remain only a couple of days. It is a dull season & we have little to tempt people to stay, but still we hope to detain you & Lady Walmsley for more than 48 hours. Mind, we can accommodate all comers, & therefore do not leave your young ladies behind, if it be agreeable to them to accompany you. I got the enclosed yesterday from Col Fitzmayer. You will see he talks very freely & it is of course in confidence. You can hand it me when you come.

I would advise you to come direct from Chester here by the turnpike and then you can return over the Downs and through Goodwood park. This will be the best plan as affording a view of the sea in descending the South Slope. We have 80 acres of wood about the house, but I fear there is nothing better than rabbits for you to shoot. However I have a good double-barrelled gun belonging to my brother which you can try if you like

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

My mind is frequently occupied with the "Safety," & I am more & more puzzled about it. I shall hope to pay in my second £500 soon, but what can we do to improve our prospects of making some return for our money & troubles? I am afraid we are deficient in a vital element of success—management. Can anybody be found with talent & experience & character who would devote himself to the success of the concern & who with such names as your own, Locke, Lindsay, Brassey, &c to work behind, could give us some assurance of success?

It must be a man thoroughly master of the business, & with energy enough to surmount the tremendous competition we have to encounter. I don't know such a person but perhaps he might be found. I mean of course a gentleman in character & manners. I have no wish to part with either Mr. Coulthard or Mr. Ryley, but the only chance of being able to continue to find a permanent post for them is to put the business on a different footing of management. You & I & Williams cannot manage it, & we have nobody at present who combines all the qualities of a manager necessary for success. In my opinion a few hundreds a year extra for a manager who had resources for creating a business would be of little consequence. What we want is such a man, if he can be found who would work partly on the plan of "no cure no pay." I throw out this vague suggestion, but it is only another way of saying "something must be done." I hear from Bright to day that he is going on well. With kind remembrances from my wife to Lady Walmsley & all Your circle. I remain

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I am sorry to hear of the sickness in your household. These East winds poison everything & almost pinch the life & spirit out of us. My wife will not return to Town with me, but I expect to see her later in the season.

To be so completely at a dead stand still as to have to look back again to Clarke for a chance of moving forward strikes me with despair. I know nothing of him beyond what you know, I have not heard or seen anything of him of which you are not cognizant & yet I feel quite convinced I am not mistaken in saying that he is himself in extremes, that he turns to us as a drowning man catches at a straw, that he wants a loan to keep his head above water & he would like to be able to say that he is connected with our office, as a recommendation elsewhere. Believe me it would be trusting to a broken rod if were to lean on him & his brother in our difficulties. They have both run the gauntlet of even fourth rate offices & could bring us neither credit nor aid of any kind. We want a totally different connection, one who can introduce us into the secret of doing respectable business. The industrial branch with which alone Clarke ever pretended to have any special acquaintance we have ceased to rely upon. I speak to you about him without reserve & in the strictest confidence as I am bound to do; but not wishing to have any altercation with him, & still less to injure him I must beg you not to mention what I write to Mr. Coulthard. We can talk over the other point when we meet. My adieu

GLYN GARTH N^R BANGOR
10 NOV. 1856.

MY DEAR WALMSLEY.

Depend on it we can't go on without additional directors as well as a clever manager & I am inclined to think that one or more amalgamations is an equally necessary step to give us the assurance that we are fairly launched. Bright as you know goes abroad this week & cannot be reckoned on for a year I am grieved to say either for private or public usefulness. To make a quorum at the Board your & my attendance at the office will be always necessary. I could not face the task upon the present organization & prospects of the Company for I should feel that so far from working for a profit it would only be a question of time when the business of the office must be transferred to some other Company. Even if you could demonstrate that at the end of 7 or 10 years there might be a profit I cant work so long as one of the regular attendants for any thing that is possible to come out of it. Besides where may we all be at our age before then? And if something happened to the health of you, Williams or myself, we are at a deadlock at once. I consider therefore that more directors are a sine qua non of our going on. I have had conscientious scruples about our position for some time. We have allowed 1856 to pass nearly over & with a constant decline of the business & yet have done nothing that offers a reasonable assurance of a better turn for the future. I have long had my doubts whether we were not bound either to put a new character in the business of the Compy or else tell our absent colleagues exactly how we stand & give them an opportunity of conferring with us as to what shall be done. It is true that they are just as much responsible as we are, but then you know they gave their names with a knowledge on our part that they would not work & the very fact of our undertaking the business of the office involves in my opinion the responsibility of telling them candidly what is likely to happen before we announce to them that the concern must come to an end. I have written all this of course upon the assumption that nothing is to come out of our negotiating for amalgamation & for a fresh manager, of which I hear nothing from Williams that enables me to form an opinion on the subject. But without fresh directors I repeat my opinion that nothing can be done. The weather is very cold here & the mountains are covered with snow. Our kind remembrances to Lady Walmsley & your daughter & believe me

I return you Gilpin's notes. But I hope he will not carry out his threat of successive calls, for I dont know where I shall find the money.

As respects the Eng. & For Compy. I suppose the directors can't find the money to put themselves on a footing of equality with us, & therefore we shall have to look elsewhere for colleagues. But it is in my opinion quite indispensable. In fact I am ashamed of our position in professing to manage a public company & not making a quorum in 3 months. Do you think there is such another case in all London of a Board of Directors managing the concerns of a Company with a capital of a quarter of a million sterling, keeping open their office with Secretary clerk actuary &c & not having a meeting of the Board in a quarter of a year?

What an exposé if it were fairly brought out!—And we Reformers, the responsible parties!!—

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I will come to Town any day to settle the Safety business. It appears to me that with a good actuary to take stock for us the bargain is in a nutshell. The only question that can arise is as to the value of the debts owing to us & to simplifying that—would it not be well to give a guarantee & then take them as cash less interest? The sooner we finally settle the better, for delay is attended with loss. If you are not quite satisfied with Boult's offer, or think better terms could be got elsewhere, it might be well to advertise for a customer.

You are wise in getting out of Town & I hope the refreshing breeze of Eastbourne will bring health & enjoyment to you all. Looking at the servility of the House of Commons & the absence of all earnestness in politics I think we have no reason to be dissatisfied with our bargain in the free air & exercise of the the Country instead of being in a committee room at Westminster. MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I got a note from Coulthard calling a meeting of the Safety Directors for Friday but I fear you will not have a quorum. Williams was in Ireland when I last heard of him. I would come up myself any day for a decisive object, but as you have my proxy for disposing of the business in the promptest possible way I do not see that I could do any good by coming up to meet you for a talk. The only suggestion I would make is to ascertain if any other office would give more than the Liverpool, & if not I would advise you to lose no time in accepting the offer. Every day's delay increases the risk of loss.

The shareholders must of course be called together to agree to the sale of the business.

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I would have come to Town if I would have been of the slightest use, but until we are in a position to take the final step I don't see that my personal presence can be of greater service to you than my written concurrence in all that you are doing. If you can make such a bargain as you have proposed to the Liverpool people we shall get out of the mess in first rate style. But if they can't be brought up to that point I advise you to take something less. It is very desirable that the business be brought to a close as soon as possible.

Have you come to any decision about Hollycomb? I still adhere to my view that you should engage some friend, with whom you could live comfortably under the same roof for six months, to join you, as you do with Highland shooting grounds.

It is too extensive for one person, & the situation requires company, for it is as much out of the world & as completely dependent on home-made society as many places in Aberdeenshire.

I suppose everybody is now running away from Town. What a melancholy exhibition the House has made; & what dreadful hours they have kept in doing nothing! I shudder when I think of the escape I have had. I hear from Bright occasionally. He is at Rochdale & keeping wisely aloof from public meetings.

Duncan McLaren thinks his return for Birmingham^m will have a favorable influence on his recovery. I don't like to think of the future in connection with Bright's public career, for I cannot succeed in convincing myself that he will so entirely get over the break down as to be equal his former self; & we can't reconcile ourselves to any thing short of that. My only fear is that he may be led by his ardent temperament to make the attempt prematurely. Believe me

I have but a moment as I am starting. I would not wish anything derogatory to you & the Safety, & therefore don't say a word about our going after the English & Foreign Directors. But it is not on our part business-like to let the matter remain in any degree in Ryleys hands. Nor must it be treated as a matter of indifference to us.

We are far more in need of the E. & F. than even they are of us. We are in Extremes—I confess the more I think of it the more I am inclined if this negotiation goes off to recommend you to call all concerned together for the purpose of winding up. Anything is more creditable to us than to go on as we are throwing away our money. I shall I hope see William tonight at the Victoria. I wish I could have seen you. Kindest regards to all

MANCHESTER 12 Dec 1857

MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I read with regret Thompsons speech in the Tower Hamlets. Surely nobody but the enemy of all reform can hope to profit by the attacks upon the "men of the north" as unjust as they are impolitic. The difference, if any, between the parties who met from Lancashire & Yorkshire is merely in matters of detail. The resolutions covered the ground of Hume's motion & looking to the influential character of the Conference, I thought it a great triumph for the cause, and your speech in the evening seemed to bespeak a similar sentiment. What possible good can arise from these attacks in London upon the people who supported those resolutions in the Conference? Would it not be wiser to try to bring the influential & wealthy employers of labor in the metropolis up to the same standard? The best way to promote this object would have been to have gone back to London & shewn to such persons as the shipbuilders, sugar bakers, & wholesale dealers of the Tower Hamlets that the capitalists of the north, men employing thousands of operators in single concerns & with hundreds of thousands of Capital, men who lived amongst their workpeople, were willing to advocate household suffrage & the ballot. These men of the North if they had had justice done them would have served for examples for the same class in the metropolis. Instead of which, Thompson, if his remarks be correctly reported assails them with unfair imputations, & tells his audience that they must be well looked after! I must candidly confess that I am disappointed at your tolerating this tone; especially as nobody has more often found fault with Thompson for talking this old worn out Chartist tone than yourself. No good can possibly come of it. I hope you are better. I shall be home with my boy at the end of next week. At present I am writing for a Mechanics Institute meeting. There seems very little stir in the political word. I have not had one invitation in Yorkshire. The operatives & their employers are doing well, & as usual there is little political feeling

On my return from town I find your note & the accompanying volume* from the pen of your son which I shall peruse with interest. A review which I had seen in the Athenæum whetted my appetite for the book, & I am very much obliged by your kindness in sending it.

We are obliged by your kind invitation, & shall certainly hope to run across the country & beat up your quarters, now that we are not very distant neighbours. But I fear the Winter is setting in with more severity than for the last few years, & that it will put it out of our power to move from home at present.

I left your sons Report on the Illinois Railway with Moffat, the chairman of our London Coun^{ll}, who wished to read it. By the way after repeated overhawl^{ings} we find no flaws in the accounts, or serious error in our calculations, or anything to affect materially the estimates formed of the investment. But it will take a couple of years more than we had expected to realize results. In the mean time everything will depend on the traffic.

I observe that your son points to the working of the coal mines on the lines, & suggests that the Company should enter on this investment. But it is impossible with our present want of means. Have you ever thought of starting your son with some competent workmen from an English Colliery? I have a notion that a couple of thousand pounds could nowhere be invested with a safer prospect & advantage than on the coal field as near as possible to Lassalle, which would command a sale to the north by rail as far as Wisconsin, & by Canal to Chicago. MY DEAR WALMSLEY

I return by this post your sons MS. Pray, thank him if he be still with you. Moffat sent out some suggestions formed on the report, & by last mail we got a reply to one of them about taking more care of the cars &c, in which the President says that their cars & carriages if put close together on a line would extend 15½ miles & that to build sheds for them would be unwise, & that they place them on sidings away from the great depots to avoid the risk of fire. I suppose the wood is so cheap in those parts that it is better to make the cars &c serve for their own sheds than put them under cover of stone buildings.

I have attended several Committee meetings lately. There will not I think be any call. Money will be raised to meet the probable deficit in some other way. Blighted harvests, inundations, panic, &c have thrown things back very much, & of course we all find fault with something or somebody when we are in distress & difficulty. But if the accidents of nature had gone the other way, If we had had bad harvests in Europe & good harvests in Illinois, the traffic would have doubled, & if we should have had a greater rush of immigrants than ever, Then we should have been offering testimonials to our directors!

Caird* has come back highly impressed with the land. He is now writing a pamphlet on it, & will form a Company for purchasing estates & put some money himself into it. He says with the exception of a small corner of the South East of Wisconsin, he saw no land for fertility & situation to compare with Illinois, & for extent of continuous good land, he thinks there is nothing in the world like it

P. S. We have been reading with great pleasure your son's [Hugh Mulleneux Walmsley] volume which you were so good as to send us. He really writes with the pen of an artist, & I expect to see him reap still higher literary triumphs. Nothing would be more agreeable to me or suit my health better. But I am leaving England on Friday for Paris to complete the arrangements of the treaty. It will be a business of details, & I fear involving a good deal of trouble.

The papers have exaggerated my illness which has been nothing but a relaxed mucus membrane of the throat, similar to what clergymen sometimes suffer from—the effect I suppose of too much talking. I am now pretty well recovered, & if we can only have some warm weather, which seems very difficult to get, I shall be free from all annoyances. I left my wife & children in Paris. We shall resume our old quarters at Dumford in June. My wife is in every respect much better than she was formerly. The children are also fairly out of the trials of the winter. THURSDAY EVENING

MY DEAR WALMSLEY,

I have yours this evening, and rejoice to find you in so hopeful & resolute a spirit. If energy industry and tact can win I know you have enough of those essential qualities for an election contest to put your opponents at the bottom of the poll. You must consider that there is far more than your own personal fate in the balance, for if we were defeated it would undoubtedly be taken as a verdict from a free & democratic constituency against the principles which we and the rest of us advocate in the House. We have to-day got through the estimates, and every body now says we shall have the dissolution on the 26th. Nobody seems to want any further delay —The ministerial party are not gaining anything by the longer postponement, & therefore I suppose we may consider the matter settled. I had the pleasure of seeing Lady Walmsley & your daughter at tea on Saturday, & was glad to observe Lady W. looking so well. Bright & Gibson have returned from Manchester. They report matters more than safe there. In fact it is very hollow business the opposition. The old whigs do not seem to have come out against them (altho their votes are always as radical as your own) in the way they have done in Leicester, against you. There is no Committee published on this side of Denman & Loch. Remember me to the Briggs & all friends & be sure you win.

Ever yours try.

The cornerstone for the circulation branch at Washington Avenue and One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Street was laid on the afternoon of Thursday, January 21, by Hon. George L. Rives of the board of trustees. At the exercises attending the ceremony held in the Trinity Congregational Church addresses were made by Rev. William B. Makepeace, president of the trustees of the Bronx Free Library, Mr. Rives on behalf of the New York Public Library, and Mr. A. E. Bostwick, chief of the circulation department.

The 1st of February was the fiftieth anniversary of the opening to the reading public of the Astor Library. Some notes on the opening were printed in the Morning Courier and New York Enquirer, February 9th, 1854, page 2, columns 1 and 2. The reading room was opened at 10 A. M. Several persons soon came in and asked for books, the first ones called for being a treatise on astronomy, a treatise on international law, a treatise on the aqueducts of ancient Rome, a volume of Asiatic researches, a treatise on diseases of the stomach and Moore's poems. The whole number of readers on the first day was about 50 and the whole number of books called for was between 60 and 70.

On the 2d of February a delegation from the United German Societies came to the Director's office and presented a laurel wreath for the bust of the founder, John Jacob Astor, with a short address. The Committee was Prof. Dr. Albert J. W. Kern, Dr. H. A. C. Anderson, Mr. A. Arns, Mr. William W. Knabe and Mr. C. Stolberg, and the address by Dr. Kern was as follows:

"DIRECTOR JOHN S. BILLINGS. MR. DIRECTOR:

"To you, representing the Board of Trustees of the Astor Library, I wish to say a few words on this memorable day.

"It is just fifty years since the Astor Library opened its doors to the public. For the existence of this great storehouse of learning, we are indebted to the generosity of the founder Johann Jacob Astor, who, prompted by a kind impulse of his heart, wished to render a public benefit to the city of New York and to contribute to the advancement of useful knowledge and the general good of society.

"His undertaking was a marked success from the start. In this library are focused all the precious thought of the master minds of all times and of all nations—from it radiate influences that determined and still determine to a high degree the intellectual and material welfare of this our great country.

“Realizing the immense public service Johann Jacob Astor has rendered through this noble act, we, descendants of the same people from which he came, feel in duty bound to pay homage to the man on this day, the 50th anniversary of the opening of the Library.

“On behalf of the United German Societies, a body of 30,000 citizens of the city of New York, I ask you, the Director for the Board of Trustees, to accept this laurel wreath as an outward token of our admiration, respect, and veneration for the generous donor, and crown with it the bust of the illustrious founder Johann Jacob Astor.”

To this address a brief reply of thanks was made by the Director, after which the party proceeded to the central reading room and affixed the laurel wreath in front and below the bust of John Jacob Astor.

Text.

The Fœderalist, no. 1-85. (In The New York Packet, no. 745, Oct. 30, 1787, no. 828, Aug. 15, 1788. New York: Samuel and John London. F°.)

The Library's file of The New York Packet lacks nos. 749, 750, 753, 760, and 794, containing nos. 5, 6, 11, 24, 25, 31, and 32 of the Federalist. There was no no. 77. In the collected editions some change was made in the numbering:—No. 35 became 29, nos. 29 and 30 became 30 and 31, no. 31 was divided to make 32 and 33, nos. 32-34 became 34-36, and nos. 36-76 became 37-77, all the other numbers remaining unchanged.

According to P. L. Ford, nos. 8, 12, 16, 18, 20, 22, 27, 29, 30, 32, 56, 64, 70, 72, and 75 first appeared in print in The New York Packet, most of the other numbers having been printed first in The Independent Journal or in The Daily Advertiser, or in the first collected edition.

13. The Federalist, No. 2. To the People. n. p., n. d. 13-16 pp. 12°.

A fragment of an entirely unknown edition of "The Federalist," thought by Ford to precede the supposed first edition in book form. Probably printed in Virginia, being found bound in a collection of Virginia pamphlets of the 1784-1790 period. This is the second part and contains numbers 2 and 3.

GEORGE SIBBALD ON THE YAZOU PURCHASE, 1802.

Printed from the original manuscript in the Ford collection, New York Public Library.

The Sale of the lands belonging to the State of Georgia commonly called the Yazou Sales, Was made by the Legislature of Georgia to certain Individuals, who bound themselves into Companies under the Name of the Georgia Company, Georgia Mississipie Co., Mississipie Comp^y, Tennessee Company. the whole am^t of the Sale was 500000 D^{rs} upon the payment of which Sum into the treasury of Georgia, a Grant was to be Made to the Said Companies. the payment Was Made and the territory granted agreeable to a Solemn Contract between the Legislature of Georgia and the Individuals who Compos'd the Comst^s under this Grant the Individual proprietors proceeded to dispose of parts of this purchase and gave actual and Bona fide titles to purchasers.

The State of Georgia by an unjust and Subsequent act, declares, the act passed the preceeding legislature to be founded in Corruption and fraud, declare the Same void and that the Records shall be publicly burned and destroy'd.

After the unprecedented act Commonly called the annulling act, they by an act which has been continued & amended annually, declares that the Mony arrising from this pretended Sale, Shall form no part of the funds of the State and be & remain at the risque of the Individual purchasers, or those Claiming by or under them, that persons possessing Such Claims may come forward and by producing them and declaring & giving up upon Oath all the papers they possess, and relinquishing their Claim to the Said pretended Sale of Western territory, shall be entitled to a return of the deposit made by them, under this act. Many persons have come forward and have drawn from the treasury near 300,000 D^{rs}, among the persons who have drawn this deposit is Doct^r Jⁿ^e Hall he appeared at Louisville with a deed from the Grantees of the Georgia Company, for their unappropriated & undivided remaining Interest, in the Georgia Company. this remaining Interest was a part of their purchase which they retained and never was included in any Sale made by them to Individuals previous to this Sale, Hall's object as appears by his Subsequent conduct was to get possession of the Whole of the deposit belonging to that Company, and this he effected by a particular act or Resolution of the Legislature declaring that the papers he produced were those contemplated by the different acts of the Legislature to be given up, and he accordingly did draw the Whole of the deposit of that Comp^y altho it was well known, as well to the Executive, as to the Individual Members of both branches of the legislature, that the Grantees had before Conveyd the greatest part of their Interest in this Comp^y to Individuals not Contemplated to be benefited by the Sum paid out of the treasury to Hall. the Governor Sent for me and asked me whether I had not a claim on that deposit for or on a/c of Some of my friends, I answered him I had not, he observed if you had, the mony should be retained, for altho Hall is drawing the Whole of the deposit yet I shall make him deposit with the treasurer the mony belonging to Mr Skyren of Philad^a & the persons in Augusta & Savanah belonging to what is termed the Scotch Comp^y (being a purchase made by certain persons of the Grantees of that Company) for their use, as they have applied for their deposit but their papers did not come within the words of the act therefore they could not draw their Mony. as to ——— and others who have not applied for their mony, let them go and look to the Grantees, for whom there is no doubt Hall is drawing the mony, and this Shews you, what I have always told you, what rascals they are to draw the mony, after having sold the land to others, but let those to whom they have sold apply to me, and they shall have access to the papers at any time and let them answer for such unjust conduct to the purchasers from this Statement it will appear that Georgia was determined to get rid of the mony at all events, and I am induced to believe that a very particular enmity that always existed between Gen^l Jackson & Gen^l Gunn operated powerfully in Gunn to draw the mony & in Jackson to give it, for each supposed it would Work an injury to the other

The Simple question now is Can the Title of Individuals be any way injured by the Legislature acting in their own Wrong, in giving up the Whole of the Mony to Hall, and receiving a relinquishment for all the purchase of the Georgia Comp^y, When the deed of the Grantees only convey'd their remaining undivided & unappropriated Interest, I answer that in Equity and in Justice the Claimants under the Grantees hold their title intire and in my oppinion without having rec^d any injury from the Subsequent Sale made to Hall. but who has to decide in this Case, not the legislature of Georgia not a Court of Equity, but a power to be created by Congress, in the agreement made with the State of Georgia. the U. States Certainly recognices the right of that State to the Sovereignty & the Soil of the Yazou Territory, for they agree to pay to Geogia 1.250.000 D^{rs} for the right of the State of Georgia & to extend their present boundary to a given point at the expence of the U States, here they acknowledge the right of the State of Georgia to the Sovereignty & the Soil and do not admit a just Claim of Individuals to the Soil under the acts & Grants of the Legislature of Georgia, this is proved by the reservation of only 5.000,000 of acres to Satisfy and quiet the Claims of Certain Companies or Individuals.

This Settlement is to be made Within 6 M^o or the Claimants are to be referd to the State of Georgia for Justice the U States cannot exceed the 5,000,000 acres of land in this Settlement, because the agreement expressly Stipulates, the remainder of the lands shall be Sold and appropriated towards the discharge of the National debt; in this Settlement an actual right is not recognized in the Individual Claimants, else why Say that 5 million of acres should be used to Satisfy the Claim to more than 30 million. in the agreement the State of Georgia, has all the benefit, they even had the right of saying, yes, or no, to the agreement, for the caling the legislature of Georgia on a point of Such magnitude to that State was nothing, to call the Legislature of the U States on a Question which is felt by so few, would have been harrassing the Members at a Season when it was hardly possible for them to attend, if they meant to do their duty in attending at the next Session. Supposing then as I do, that Georgia had all to say in this arrangement with the Union I will presume that the Settlement to be made between the Individuals & whatever power Congress may appoint, will in a great degree be governed by the Judgment and opinions of our leading Members in the next Congress. that they Will be as unfavorable to those Claims, as possible, I have no doubt. there can be no doubt of their coming forward With a particular Statement of the Sales made and of the Money paid under the recinding act, and unless Care is taken to be prepared the other Companies, and the parties in Congress that are interested in them, will gladly join, in baring Claimants under the Georgia Comp^y which Georgia will say is relinquished to the State, because it will give those whose Claims are intire, a much larger indemnification. I have no idea, that those who have actually drawn their Money can have any Claim, and the State of Georgia will Say that the Georgia Comp^y have drawn all their mony and are not to be considered parties, You will therefore have to act with extreme Caution and in my oppinion the Grant ought to be considered the Sheet anchor of the Georgia Company With it your Claim may be recognized Without it you may be bar'd for ever. in any common Case, a purchase from an original Grantee, is not to be presumed to have the original deed, unless he becomes the purchaser of the Whole Tract. but if the Validity of the title is questioned the Original Grant must be produced if even the Seal is Wanting it is not allowed to be read in Evidence. at Common law in Case where it Can be proven that a Grant is lost, the best evidence the Nature of the Case will admit of must be produced, but you must remember you are not going into a Court of Justice in this Case. the Law will be Made to Suit the particular Case in Question, and the Weight of Georgia Will be Considerable in forming it. that at the formation of it, you ought to be prepared at all points there cannot be doubt. I therefore once more beg you to consider the Grant, as of the first necessity for Without it, you loose all. I will Suppose that it is the Interest of B—— to bring it forward as you have mentioned, but may it not be made his particular Interest to Withold it, by the persons claiming under other Companies Grants, whose Notes have not been called in Question, for the less the Number of Claims the more they will receive from the U. States. Mr Gallatin appears to know nothing about this Company, but in conversing on general principles as an Individual, he appears to think, that a Compromise in Money will be the move most likely to Satisfy and be for the Interest of both parties, from which I infer that the Commis^{rs} will propose the adoption of Some plan in the report that will be made, they will undoubtedly State the Individual Claimants under what Comp^y the dignity of the Claims &c when they come to the Georgia Comp^y the Georgia Members will say they have no Claim, you must therefore be prepared with the Grant, and with it produce the other evidences of your Claims. as to a record of the Grant made in any other State it will not be Conclusive evidence of the existence of the Grant, in opposition to proofs of the State of Georgia Who will Say, the Grantees have relinquished their Claim, and you must then not only Say, but be prepared to Produce, the original Grant, and Shew that no Subsequent act of the Grantees after the Sale to you can or ought to injure your title. as to paying a dollar to Bond for the Grant, I certainly would not, but Would immediately file a bill in Equity agst him, in which I would make Mr Rawle a party, obliging them to replace that Grant and all the papers belonging to it into the Bank of the U. States. the Grant is not the property, not placed there nor was it property that belonged to Gen^l Green, but an Evidence of properly belonging to others, and M^r Bond has only a right to the Grant in Common with others. I have not got the Constitution of the U. States by me, but I think in all controversies between Individuals of different States, and between persons in the Same State, where the lands in Question lay in a different State, may be decided in the Supreme Court of the U. States. if this is not the Case, you had better permit me to ask the Interference of one of the other Grantees.

this rough Sketch of my oppinion of the Claim of persons holding under the parties of the Georgia Company is Submitted in its present imperfect State for your perusal if you think it of any Consequence I will make a fair Copy and add Such things as may Strike me as being interesting to you

ARTICLES OF A TREATY AND AGREEMENT CONCLUDED BETWEEN THE GOVERNOR AND COUNCIL OF FORT WILLIAM ON THE PART OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY AND THE NABOB NUDJUM UL DOWLA, 20 FEB , 1765.

On the part of the Company

WE the Governor and Council do engage to Secure to the Nabob Najim ul Dowla the Subardarree of the Province of Bengal, Bahar and Orissa and to support him therein with the Company's Forces against all his Enemies. We will also at all times keep up such force as may be necessary effectually to assist and support him in the defence of the Provinces: and as our Troops will be more to be depended upon than any the Nabob can have and less expensive to him, he need therefore entertain none but such as are requisite for the support of the civil officers of his Government, and the Business of his collections thro the different Districts.

We do further promise that in consideration the Nabob shall assist in defraying the extraordinary expenses of the War now carrying on against Shujah ul Dowla with five Laaks of Rupees per month which was agreed to by his Father, that whatever sums may be hereafter received of the King on account of our assistance afforded him in the War shall be repaid by the Nabob.

On the part of the Nabob

In consideration of the assistance the Governor and Council have agreed to afford in securing to me the Succession in the Subahdarree of Bengal Bahar and Orissa heretofore held by my Father the late Nabob Meer Jaffier Ally Khan, and supporting me in it against all my enemies; I do agree and bind myself to the faithful performance of the following articles

1st. The Treaty which my Father formerly concluded with the Company upon his first accession to the Nizamut, engaging to regard the honor and reputation of the Company and of their Governor and Council as his own, and granting Perwanmahs for the Currency of the Company's Trade. The same Treaty as far as is consistent with the Articles hereafter agreed to, I do hereby ratify and confirm.

2d. Considering the weighty charge of Government and how essential it is for myself, for the welfare of the Country and for the Company's Business that I shou'd have a person who has had experience therein to advise and assist me. I do agree to have one fixed with me, with the advice of the Governor and Council in the Station of Naib Subah who shall accordingly have immediately under me the Chief management of all affairs. And as Mahomed Reza Kahn the Naib of Dacca has in every respect my approbation and that of the Governor and Council, I do further agree that this Trust shall be conferr'd on him, and I will not displace him without the approbation of those Gentlemen. And in case any alteration in this appointment should hereafter appear advisable, That Mahomed Reza Khan provided he has acquitted himself with fidelity in his administration, shall in such case be reinstated in the Naibship of Dacca with the same authority as heretofore.

3. The Business of the Collections of the Revenues shall under the Naib Subah be divided into two or more Branches as may appear proper, and as I have the fullest dependence and confidence on the attachment of the English and their regard to my Interest and Dignity, and am desirous of giving them every Testimony thereof: I do further Consent that the appointment and Dismission of the Mutseddies of those Branches and the allotments of their several Districts shall be with the approbation of the Governor and considering how much Men of my Rank & Station are obliged to trust to the Eyes and recommendations of the Servants about them, and how liable to be deceived, It is my further will that the Governor & Council shall be at Liberty to object and point out to me when improper People are intrusted, or where my Officers and subjects are oppressed. And I will pay a proper Regard to such representations that my affairs may be conducted with honor, my people every where be happy, and their Grievances be redressed.

4th. I do confirm to the Company as a fixed resource for defraying the Ordinary Expenses of their Troops the Chucklas of Burdwan Midnipoor and Chittagong, in as full a manner as heretofore ceded by my Father. The sum of five Laaks of Sicca Rupees p^r month for their maintenance was further agreed to be paid by my Father. I agree to pay the same out of my Treasury whilst the exigency for keeping up so large an Army continues. When the Company's Occasions will admit a diminution of the expences they are put to on account of those Troops the Governor will then relieve me from such a proportion of this assignment as the increased expenses incurred by keeping up the whole force necessary for the defence of the Provinces will admit of, and as I esteem the Company's Troops entirely equal thereto and as my own, I will only maintain such as are immediately necessary for the dignity of my Person and Government, and the business of my Collection throughout the Provinces.

5. I do ratify and confirm to the English the Priviledge granted them by their Firmaunn and several Husbulhookums of carrying on their Trade by means of their own Dustack free from all Duties, Taxes or Impositions in all parts of the country, excepting in the Article of Salt on which a Duty of $2\frac{1}{2}$ p. Cent is to be levied on the Rowana or Houghly Market Price

6. I give to the Company the liberty of purchasing half the Salt Petre, produced in the country of Purnea which their Gomastaks shall send to Calcutta, the other half shall be collected by my Fouzdar for the use of my Officers, and I will suffer no other persons to make Purchases of this Article in that Country.

7th In the chuckla of Silhet for the space of five years commencing with the Bengal year 1171 my Fouzdar and a Gomastak on the part of Company shall jointly provide chunam of which each shall defray half the expence: and half the chunam so made shall be given to the Company

[8] Although I should occasionally remove to other places in the Province, I agree that the Books of the Sicca shall be always Kept, and the Business conducted at Moorshedabad, and that shall as heretofore be the seat of my Government, And wherever I am I consent that an English Gentleman shall reside with me to transact all Affairs between me and the Company, and that a Person of high Rank shall also reside on my part at Calcutta to Negotiate with the Governor and Council

9 I will cause the Rupees coin'd in Calcutta to pass in every respect equal to the Siccas of Moorshedabad without any Deduction of Batta and whoever shall demand Batta shall be punish'd. The annual loss on Coinage by the fall on Batta on the issuing of the new Siccas is a very heavy grievance to the Country; and after mature Consideration I will in concert with the Governor & Council pursue whatever may appear the best method for remedying it.

10. I will allow no Europeans whatever to be entertained in my service, and if there already be any they shall be immediately dismissed.

[11] The Risbundu for Payment of the Restitution to the Sufferers in the late Troubles as executed by my Father, I will see faithfully paid; no delays shall be made in this Business.

12 I confirm and will abide by the Treaty which my Father formerly made with the Dutch,

13. If the French come into the Country, I will not allow them to Erect any Fortifications, Maintain Stores or hold Lands, Zemindaries &c but they shall pay tribute and carry on their Trade as in former times.

14. Some Regulations shall be hereafter settled between us for deciding all disputes which may arise between the English Gomastaks and my officers in the different parts of the Country.

In Testimony whereof we the said Governor and Council have set our hands and affixed the Seal of the Company to one part hereof, and the Nabob before-named has set his hand and Seal to another part a true copy

TRANSLATION OF A LETTER FROM THE NABOB NUDJUM UL DOWLA TO LORD CLIVE MAY, 1765

Gentlemen of the Select Committee at Fort William.

The Situation which I am now in will not permit me to acquaint you with all the Circumstances which have happened, but I will make part thereof known to you which is as follows

My Father leaving Calcutta arrived at Moorshadabbad, where he continued in perfect Health for some Time after which he fell Sick, and finding his disorder increasing every Day and growing irrecoverable he delivered me a Paper of advice, and on the 7th day of Shawbun he was pleased to deliver to me the Kelaut, received from the King and several other presents; he recommended Mah Rajah Nund-comar to my Notice and ordered him to send for M^r. Middleton and the other English Gentlemen, Mahomed Irrack Khan &c Friends and all the Servants belonging to the Nizamut (or Government) and before them to set Nabob Nudjum ul Dowla Bahadre in his place on the Nizamut Musnud, and to order the People in general to give Nazors of Congratulation, and also to make them strictly Know, that they must obey Nabob Nudjum ul Dowla in every respect as they did him, & be always ready at his command. According to the above orders of my deceased Father, the above named Meah Rajah has fully performed and I myself being willing and desirous to execute the Business laid to my Trust, on the 14th of the afore-said Month my Father departed this Life, after the usual Solemnization of his Funeral I have comforted & enlivened the People in general, and began to manage the affairs, and ordered a proclamation to be made throughout the city, and Mess^{rs} Middleton and Grey & all the Nizamut Servants came and presented Nazers.

Through the Will of God all the Business is carried on in the same good manner as before.

Six days afterwards M^r. Middleton came and acquainted me, that two of the Counsellors were coming up from Calcutta for my own Comfort. This Deputation I certainly thought was coming for my Benefit and welfare The Day Mess^{rs} Johnstone & Leycester arrived at Cossimbuzar, I sent Mah Rajah Nund-comer Bahadre to meet them. M^r. Johnstone was somewhat displeased with the said Mah Rajah before about the Purgunnati Lumalook therefore his meeting the Gentlemen was not agreeable to Mr. Johnstone. The next day the above Gentlemen &c came to me, I was confident that these my Friends and Wellwishers would have done me the Compliments of Condolence and comfort me, but they did not the least thing of this Kind, instead whereof they began to incumber me with many troublesome things, and at the same time they sent out all the people which were present together with my Brother Nabob Lyfred Dowla, and then they told me to send for Mahomed Reza Khan from Dacca and set him as Naib of the Nizamut. This troubled me much and they told me also that till Meer Mahomed Reza Khan arrived from Dacca, and till he was set up as Naib of the Nizamut, I must not sit in the Dewan Connah, and that I must live in the same place where I was, and put a stop to all publick Business.

The above named Reza Khan has had long ago evil Intentions on the Nizamut. My Father therefore deemed him always as his Enemy: & besides there is a large Sum of Money due from him to the Sircar. For these Reasons I thought proper not to acquiesce to any of the above proposals which were made to me. I told them to peruse the Paper of Advice of my deceased Father and see how it directs and which I shall readily follow, in answer to this, They replied "That your Paper of advice was of no force and virtue, and everything must be done as we think proper."

In this manner they have vexed, me by sitting almost every day from the first of their Arrival to their Departure.

They presented me with a paper & requested I would sign it. This Paper was that which they brought with them, and insisted upon me to comply with their request. I sent for Meer Mahomed Irrick Khan, Mah Rajah Nundcomer Bahadre & the first acquainted the Gentlemen that whatever paper they wanted to be signed they would have no difficulty in it, at the same time it was proper for all of them to peruse it first. Mess^{rs} Johnstone & Lycester being much displeased at this, asked in a very angry manner "who they were that wanted to peruse the "paper." After this Mounshy Sudoler o' Dy, who was near my presence, told me to bring the former Treaty and compare that with this, & then to sign it. At this M^r Johnstone turned out the Mounshy & they told me that if in case I do not set up Mahomed Reza Khan in his Naibship and immediately sign the Paper, I should have no great Chance of being in the Possession of the Subahdarry and then I should be extremely sorry for it; when I saw him pressing me so eagerly, and in an unfriendly manner I thought proper to sign & deliver the Paper to them & they carried it away.

After this Mahomed Reza Khan arrived and sat as Naib, he for the better securing his Naibship, above Twenty Lacks of Rupees (in Money and Goods) out of my Treasury, has distributed among such People as he thought proper & this without my knowledge: Besides there is a Balance due from the above mentioned Khan of about Twenty Lacks of Rupees on account of Dacca Syllat Rosshanabad of which he does not chuse to pay a single Coury, the above said Mahomed Reza Khan made M^r Johnstone his protector, and M^r Leycester his Naheel, and made Rajah Dullabraum his Fellow partner and took from the Mounshies Muchulca papers under their Hands, he Keeps my Seal under his own Seal, and there is nothing to be done with my Will or Order Titles, Employments, Kelants, Elephants, Horses, and Jewels are granted & distributed to others as he pleases.

Mah Rajah Nundcomar my intimate well wisher when he has occasion to ask any Question, they answer him in the Negative, and with Displeasure. While this Man continues in the Service they cannot impose upon me any extraordinary Charges. They for the Sake of their own Profits have censured him with an old accusation which was long ago strictly examined by General Carnac, who acquitted him of it, and now they maliciously accuse him again & by this means they sent him down to Calcutta with a Guard of Seepoys.

There is a Ballance due to the Sircar from Jelladars of fifteen Lacks of Rupees and now new Employments are granted to them and the Lands divided into several Divisions.

Khalsa Jaghire &c^a Rents were duly collected at the time while the above-named Mah Rajah had the management, they have disposed of the present Years Rents and Paynos as they pleased when I intended going down to Calcutta I was much distressed for Money for paying my Servants Wages and other current expenses.

M^r Johnstone's bad treatment to me after my Fathers death, and Mahomed Reza Khan's Station are to me as if I was day and night in a flame, but the news that his Lordship was coming to this place has relieved me of my anxieties, at last God Almighty was pleased to hasten his Lordships Arrival to this place, that has put into me a fresh Life and Vigour, now I beg your Lordship &c^a, as my Protector and sincere Friend to put my Affairs which were ruined by these people on a proper Footing as they were in my Fathers Time In doing this I shall think myself happy.

N. B. The following Lines are written in the Nabobs own hand
Gentlemen,

I have wrote my Sentiments in the above Lines as brief as possible, and beg you will hear my Petition

THE GOVERNOR AND COUNCIL AT FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL TO THE COURT OF DIRECTORS OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY, 6TH SEPTEMBER 1766.

On a calculate of the Investment provided this Season, we expect it will not amount to less than fifty Laacks of Rupees. The Gentlemen at Madrass inform us that they shall have Cargoes for three Ships, On Receipt therefore of your Advices that four ships only were destin'd this Season for Coast and Bay and six for Bombay We immediately Came to a resolution to Sollicit the Gentlemen of that Presidency to assist in supplying us with as large a Proportion of Tonnage as could possibly be spared, so as to arrive with us by the latter end of November at the furthest.

Observing afterwards by your advices of the 19th of February, that three of the Bombay ships were to call at Madrass with Troups for this Settlement, we recommended the President and Council there to send two of them on to Us by way of securing a Tonnage for our Investments, and if, in Consequence of the Application we before made to Bombay, two other ships should be sent round from their Side we Concluded that it could not be of any Prejudice to your affairs, as in such Case they might be returned thither with the Consignments of the two Bombay ships that should be sent on to us from the Coast, and the Saltpetre intended this Season for that Presidency.

But we have since received orders from the Gentlemen at Bombay acquainting us of the Duke of Albany's Arrival there the 3^d of last Month, and that having been informed from Madras of the Tonnage required for our Investm^{ts} on this Side, they have determined to Supply us with three ships, two of which the Duke of Albany and Nottingham will be sent round from Bombay, and they have desir'd Gentleman at Madrass therefore to detain only one of those order'd to call there with Troops for this Place.

It is probable the large Supplies of Bullion sent out from Europe last Season for the China Investment with the Consignm^t of twenty four Laaks from this Presidency, and the Assistance the Supra Cargoes may have further received from Madrass and Bombay will not only have amply provided for their ships of this Season, but leave a very Considerable Ballance in their Hands to Command an Investment for the next: Unless however we receive Advices from them to limit our next Consignments, it is Our Intention to make them equal to that of last year, for which purpose we are buying up all the Bullion that is imported and you may rely on the Continuance of our endeavours to Support this Valuable part of your Trade.

At the time when we thought the refractory Spirit peculiar to this Settlement had begun to Subside and our Attention was employ'd in the Grand Plan of Reformation and Method, to our great Surprise a Mutinous Spirit discovered itself amongst the Military Officers, which we cannot reflect on but with Horror, more especially when we consider that not only the Civil Authority but perhaps the very being of the Company was at Stake. It blazed forth in a general Combination amongst all Ranks under the Degree of a field Officer, with a determined Resolution to distress the Government by throwing up their Commissions on the 1st day of May last, unless the double Batta was restored, and to give a Colour of Moderatⁿ to this Dishonourable Behaviour, they agreed to act as Volunteers for fifteen days that an Answer might be received from the Board, whether their Mutinous Demands would be Complied with. The third Brigades though at great Distances from each other Conducted their Plans with such Secresy, being bound to each other by Oath that it was not till the 29th April that Lord Clive, who was then at Moosshedabad, settling at the Grand Pooucah, the Collection of the Revenues of Bengal for the year to Come, received the first Intimation of their design, when he was informed that no less than 130 Officers had already subscribed to the Association and engaged to raise a fund not only for the Maintanance and Support of all those who should suffer from our Resentment but likewise to purchase Commissions in the Kings Service in England. An Army making its own Terms was such an alarming circumstance, that we imediately determined to Crush such a Mutinous Spirit in its Birth at all hazards; and on the 6th of May, when the Association appear'd to be general, and we received Accounts that the Officers of the 1st Brigade, Cantoond at Moughier, had lodged their Commissions with the adjutant, with an Intention to send them to the Commanding Officer, we directed Lieutenant Col. Sir Robert Fletcher to accept all that were tendered, and send the officers down to Calcutta within 24 Hours, as no dependance could be had on Men, who could so far forget their own Honour and the Duty they owed to the Service.

On so Critical an occasion when our Authority was so grossly insulted and the Contest in ffact was, whether the Government of these Provinces should pass from the Hands of the Civil to the Military, everything was to be risk'd. Spirited Measures appeared to be the only Resource, nor did we hesitate adopting them, dangerous as they were, being Confident that a happy Unanimity in our Councils would, if anything could ensure Success. The Presence of his Lordship the General and a few good officers who were hastening up to Moughier with all Expedition and who had not lost Sight of their Duty to the Company or forget what they owed to their own Honour, gave reason to hope that no very bad Consequences would be apprehended from the Men being so suddenly and basely deserted by their officers.

Soon after Accounts Arrived that the 2^d and 3^d Brigades had followed the Example of the 1st with this distinction that the 2^d Brigade agreed to resign the 1st June, and to abandon the Troops on the 15th, but this did not shake the firmness with which we had determined to persevere. We repeated our Applications to Madrass and Bombay for all the Officers and Volunteers they could possibly spare and gave Notice to the Mutineers upon their Arrival in Calcutta to prepare for proceeding to Europe by the first Opportunity. If they were before secure of Carrying their Point from the Association being so general and so unanimous, no less than 173 having sent in their Commissions nothing could now equal their Chagrin and Despair at finding themselves disappointed yet still they flatter'd themselves with hopes that the Circular Letters they had sent to the Coast and Bombay representing the Service here in an odious Light would frustrate our Applications and we should at last be obliged to comply with their demands.

Thus stood Matters for some time until we heard from Lord Clive and General Carnac on their Arrival at Moughier the 15th May that nothing was to be apprehended from either the Military or Seapoys at that Place, though deprived of so many of their Officers, and in a few days afterwards we received another Letter from his Lordship and the General dated at Patna with the agreeable news that the Men of the 3^d Brigade remained firm to their duty altho' they had been for some time deserted by almost all their Officers. Here we Cannot avoid bestowing that Praise upon the field Officers, which they most justly deserve and whose Conduct in keeping the Men in Order and preventing their following the infamous Example set them by their Officers, does those Gentlemen as much Honour as their Path was arduous. The Situation of the 2^d Brigade in the face of a large Army of Morattas and in the Center of Shijah Dowlah's Dominions was more particularly critical and its Officers sensible of this were the more violent, altho' they enjoyed on Account of their great distance from the Provinces the very Indulgence, the Want of which was ascribed as a Reason for the Mutiny in the Officers of the other Brigades under these disagreeable Circumstances. We could not but be under the greatest Anxiety for the fate of this Brigade, but we were soon delivered from our apprehensions by the Spirit and Activity of Colonel Smith, who extricated himself with great Address until the news of our Steadiness and the fate of the Officers of the other two Brigades had time to operate, when they all became as humble as they were before insolent, and upon their making proper submission we pardoned all those we thought deserving of our Clemency. The news of this Brigades having retracted, and a Reinforcement of Officers from Madrass, with Intelligence that more were Coming soon, had the wish'd for Effect on the Officers of the other two Brigades, Reflection succeeded to folly and Madness, and they began to see the absurdity of their Conduct in its true Light. Individuals began to desert their cause, Jealousy and Reproach took place in their Councils, and the Committees they had formed for Conducting their Measures, now found their Weight and Influence daily diminishing at length they formally absolved themselves from the Solemn Engagements and Penalty Bonds they had entered into at the Beginning of the Association. The consequence of which has been, that the offenders almost to a Man had submissively acknowledged their Error and Petitioned to be readmitted into the Service. We have already forgiven some of the most innocent, and how far we shall extend our Lenity toward others will depend upon their Characters and Merits. As things have turn'd out We Cannot but esteem this a happy Circumstance, which has afforded us an opportunity of Weeding the Army not only of the Promoters of the Association, but also of the illiterate mean and undeserving.

This Combination it appears first began in January last, in the height of the Disaffection amongst the Civilians and it is probable would have blazed out at the same time had not the distance which separated the Brigades requir'd more time to bring matters to a Maturity and Circumspection to guard against the Military Law—There is but too much Reason to suspect that this dangerous Attempt of the Officers to overset our Civil Liberties, has been Countenanced and supported by some of the Civilians themselves from the Beginning and there is great Cause for Belief, that a Subscription has been set on foot amongst some of them at Calcutta, in order to excite them to persevere in this Mutinous Conduct. But it is beyond a doubt, that every officer in the three Brigades were made to believe such a Subscription and that it amounted to 140,000 Rupees. The intercepted Letters which appear on the face of our Consultations. the open satisfaction expressed but by too many at our then Dilemma. and the almost general Refusal of the free Merchants to accept of Commissioners in that time of distress, are but too many Melancholy Proofs of the Depravity of this Settlement, We may be sorry but cannot be surprized at so glaring an Injustice of the Spirit of Opposition. When Men are lost to all sense of Duty to the Public, they know not where to stop. If success had attended this daring attempt, perpetual Batta was to have been the next demand; annulling the Covenants another, The Dissolution of the Select Committee a third, and setting aside the Company's Appointment of Officers from England a fourth, But these shocking Circumstances are now happily obviated and the Civil Authority, We hope better Established than ever—The Civilians too seem now to be sensible of their Error and we hope will in future be more attentive to their duty and less actuated by a Spirit of Refactoriness and opposition

How far Combinations of this Nature come under the Articles of War seem to be doubtful, as the Officers had not Contracted for any certain time which appears to be a necessary form by the Act for punishing Mutiny and desertion, and they had ceased to receive pay at the time of Resigning their Comissions. While such doubts exist, a Court Martial might possibly call the Legality of a Trial in Question, which it is better to avoid. There are some of the offenders however so circumstanced that we think they cannot well escape the Rigour of Martial Law when Things have been carried such Length. Examples seem necessary, not only for the Salvation of the whole, but for the sake of Discipline and Subordination. A general Court Martial of Field Officers has been assembled for the Trial of Captain Nevil Parker, Lieutenant Vertue, Lieu^t Monsell and Ensign North.

The Proceedings of the Court upon Lieu^t Vertue having been clos'd and approved, We are to acquaint you that he has been brought in guilty of Mutiny and desertion, but there being no Certain Proofs of his having received his pay, altho' it was drawn for in the usual manner, the Court have thought proper only to sentence him to be Cashiered with Infamy, by having his Sword and Spontoon broke over his Head and his Sash cutt in pieces in front of the Troops.

To obviate these difficulties in future We have come to a Resolution that as soon as the Courts Martial are over, every Officer shall execute a regular Contract of Service for three years, obliging himself to give Twelve Months previous Notice before he can Resign, without the Permission of the President and Council

The Combination of the Officers has been productive of many strange discoveries, and amongst the rest an Information has been laid before the Board against Lieu^t. Col. St Robert Fletcher, as a principal Promoter & Instigator of the late dishonorable Association—So heavy a charge against one of our Principal Officers gives us Pain. however we have been necessitated to order him under an Arrest, A General Court Martial is summoned for his Tryal, and we shall rejoice to find him acquitted of a crime in which he has so much at Stake.

Amongst these Informations there is another of a Nature still more heinous nothing less than a design against our President Lord Clive's Life—Captain Stainforth who is the Person accused is now under an Arrest on that Account and will shortly be brought to his Trial—This Gentleman was one of the very first that deserted their Cause, and we would therefore willingly hope the Accusation Springs only from Pique and Resentment.—One thing is Certain, it cannot flow from a Just Abhorrence of the Crime, since it was Kept a Secret, until Matters had subsided, and there was no longer danger of its being perpetrated

Our Proceedings during the Course of the Combination are kept apart from the Consultations and shall be transmitted by the first direct ship from hence. Meanwhile we send for your Information a List of the Officers now doing Duty with the Brigades, distinguishing those that remain'd firm to their duty and those that we have thought proper to restore

We must here in justice to the officers from Madras acknowledge the Readiness with which they came to our Assistance and there is no doubt but their Sudden Arrival Contributed towards bringing our officers to Repentance and a sense of their Duty

The Brigades being now tolerably well officer'd we have ordered the last Embarkation of Madrass officers back to the Coast, where there Services are more immediately wanted and here we think it our duty to inform you that both the Presidencies of ffort St George and Bombay have afforded us their Assistance with the greatest Zeal and Dispatch

It is with the greatest Concern we have to acquaint you with the Death of the Nabob Najyur at Dowlagh who departed this Life on the 8th of May last after a short Illness, his next brother Syfat Dowlagh was immediately proclaimed his Successor and has since received the Royal Sunnuds

We have granted three Setts of Certificates to the officers of Lord Camden on their Indulgence amounting to Current Rupees 22,720.✓

PRESIDENT AND COUNCIL AT FORT WILLIAM IN BENGAL TO THE COURT OF DIRECTORS OF THE EAST INDIA COMPANY 28TH NOV^R 1766.

There have only imported here this Season two Ships of the French Company, viz. : the Ajax and Marquis de Castres, but their Agents here have given out that they are in expectation of Five others under the Command of Monsieur Law,

Brother to their present Governor, which are private Property and to remain in India

The large supplies of Treasures sent from hence to Canton for some Years past, and the last Season in particular will we hope fully convince you, that the Utmost attention has been paid to your repeated Injunctions, for the Support of that Important Branch of your Trade We have empowered the Gentleman at Madras to draw upon us, without limitation until January next, and we are purchasing all the Bullion that comes into the place on the most moderate Terms for our next Consignment which we hope will be equal to that of last year, if we do not receive advice from the Gentleman at Canton to the Contrary whom we are informed have a very large Quantity on hand

By the Lord Camden we acquainted you of our hopes that the Investment providing this Season would not fall short of Fifty Lacks. The utmost attention has been paid to the Improvement of the different Assortments of the Cloths, and at the End of the Year we shall as usual transmit to You our Remarks on the whole

In May last the Gentlemen at Cassimburzar informed us that the successive Droughts the last Season had destroyed the greatest part of the Mulberry shrubs, whereby the Farmers were deprived of large Quantities of their Worms, for want of proper Nourishment which they apprehended might prove of Detriment to your Silk Investment, but we have the pleasure to advise you that they have already dispatched to us Goods to the Amount of Ten Lacks of Rupees, and we flatter ourselves we shall, before the dispatch of the latter Ships receive from Six to Seven Lacks more

We acquainted you by the Lord Camden of the death of the Nabob Najam al Dowla on the 8th of May, and of his being succeeded in the Subadarree by his next Brother Syf o Dowlah. The Treaties subsisting between the late Nabob and the Company have been Ratified and Confirmed, and a new one entered into with the Nabob Syf o Dowlah, which has been executed in Four Copies one of which makes a Number in this Packet

Immediately after the Dispatch of the Ponsborne and Admiral Watson in March, Lord Clive and General Carnac set out for the City to settle a Plan for the Collection of the Revenues and for other purposes, of which you will no doubt receive advice from the Select Committee, soon after the Arrival of his Lordship and the General at Mootagheel, we received a Letter from them and Mr Sykes acquainting us that the two Seats, Sons of those who were cut off by Cossim Aly Cawn, on Account of their Attachment to the English Company, had laid before them a claim amounting to between 50 & 60 Lacks of Rupees thirty of which have been lent to the Zemindars they did not think the Government answerable for but that their claim of 21 Lacks lent to the Nabob Meer Jaffier for the Support of his, and the English Army, they were of opinion was just and reasonable, however as it would be inconsistent with Equity now that the Revenues of the Country are appropriated to the Company to expect that the Nabob should pay the whole, they proposed that the said Sum should be discharged by the Company and the Nabob in equal Payments within the space of Ten years viz : One Lack of Rupees p Annum each for the first nine years, and one Lack and a half each for the Tenth or last year. We could not but acquiesce in the justness of this Proposal, and make no doubt but you will approve the same

The Grand Pooucah was held at Mootagheel the 29 April last when his Excellency the late Nabob sate in Quality of Nizam, and the Right Honble the President on behalf of the Company as Duan

We have the Pleasure to inform you that Shujah Dowla discharged three months before it became due his obligation to the Company for 50 Lacks of Rupees agreeably to the Treaty concluded in Allahabad the 16th August 1765. Although in the Treaty no particular Specie of Rupees is specified, the Nabob has paid 27 Lacks in Sunnaut Rupees which carry the highest Batta of any in his Dominions, and the Company by that means, and receiving the remaining 23 Lacks in Siccas have gained an advantage of one Lack and fifteen thousand Sunnaut Rupees a particular Statement of the said obligation shewing the times and manner of Payment appears on the Face of our Consultations

By an account of the Jemmantbundy on new Measurement of part of the Calcutta Purgunnas lately deliver'd in by the Collection it appears that the Rent of them for the present Year clear of all Charges amounts to Sicca Rupees 662070 which exceeds the last year's Rent by 117458 and we hope a proportionable increase will arise from a remeasurement of the remaining Purgunnas which we have ordered to be compleated as soon as possible

In our Letter by the Lord Camden we gave an Account of the extraordinary Combination the officers of our Army had enter'd into to force us to the necessity of restoring their double Batta which had been taken off from 1st January last, and of our having with much difficulty and Perseverance disappointed that pernicious Scheme which had it succeeded might have been attended with the most fatal Consequences to your affairs. We at the same time mentioned the Information that had been lodged against Lieut Col Sir Robt Fletcher as a principal instigator of that dishonourable Association in Consequence of which he had been put under an Arrest. That several other officers were to be tried for Mutiny and disobedience of orders, and that Captain Stainforth was likewise to take his Trial for having uttered threatening Expressions against the life of Lord Clive

It is with the utmost Concern and Astonishment we find that Proofs have fully appeared of Sir Robert Fletcher's having not only connived, but even promoted the Military Combination in Consequence of which he has been Cashier'd and proceeds to England by this ship

The other Courts Martial having been also concluded Copies thereof are transmitted in the Packet for your more particular Information

The considerable Receipts of Cash from the Revenues you now enjoy have already enabled us to Pay off many of your Bonds, and to resolve to discharge the whole as they become due except in some particular Cases where the Dependance and support of the Parties is from the Interest of small sums in your Cash which we have permitted to remain till the last payments, or until your Pleasure can be Known.

The Amount of this Ships Invoice is Current Rupees 1000400

The Ballance this Day remaining in your Treasury is Current Rupees 4477028-7-9 and in your Cash Chest Current Rupees 8217-2

We have drawn upon you by this Ship 91 Sets of Bills of Exchange at 365 Days sight, amounting to Current Rupees 493677-15, also 4 Sets of Certificates amounting to Current Rupees 38,274

Of the three Bombay ships to call at Madrass with Troops for this Settlement we find by a Letter from a Gentleman there dated the 20th Sept that the Anson & Speaker were arrived

We shall have occasion for five Ships to carry home the Investment of this Presidency, and We understand that they have full Cargoes for three ships from the Coast Eight ships therefore are required for the Investment of the two settlements, and as you destined only four this Season for the Coast and Bay we have concerted Measures with the other two presidencies to provide for so great a Deficiency of Tonnage, in consequence of which the Governor and Council at Bombay have come to a Resolution of sending round to us the Duke of Albany & Nottingham from their side, and the Gentlemen at Madrass have advised us of their Intention to send on to us the Anson and Devonshire. If the four Bombay ships above mentioned, and the Pigot arrive safely with us We shall have seven ships including the Brittannia and Cruttendon now in Bengal and in that Case we shall provide the Gentlemen at Madrass with all the Tonnage they have desired, that is, two ships besides the Lord Camden already returned to the Coast But should We disappointed of one of the ships from Madrass or Bombay, we shall not be able to spare more than one and a half for Madrass besides the Camden, as we cannot possibly do with less than four and a half without exposing too much of the Company's Property upon one Bottom.

LE GRAND G. CAPERS AND V. W. KINGSLEY TO HORACE GREELEY
ON PEACE NEGOTIATIONS IN 1865.

Printed from the original manuscripts in the Ford Collection, New York Public Library.

NEW YORK March 20th 1865

10 WALL STREET

Hon. HORACE GREELEY

DEAR SIR;

Having not fully understood to our satisfaction, why the various attempts to secure peace through negotiations, upon the basis of recession, have failed, and yet believing it possible to bring about that result upon a constitutional basis, we apply to you as the leading peace negotiator of your party, to co-operate with us in one more effort to accomplish reunion and peace.

First. The negotiation of the President at the Conference, at Hampton Roads, does not so far as known, preclude the possibility of reunion. The declarations of Mr. Hunter since made, warrant the conclusion that our Government was too exacting in terms, and thereby repelled a peaceful settlement upon a basis other than separation.

Second. The late Message of Mr. Davis to the Rebel Congress, shows that the question of negotiation is still an open one on their part; in view of these facts, we submit to you, that this doubt can be settled fully and decisively, whether the South are prepared to settle our difficulties upon a basis of reunion under the constitution and with the rights that appertain to them as co-existing States of the Union; and to settle this question, once for all, as to what can be done in the way of peace, we suggest that yourself and Mr. Edwin Croswell, with such other person as you may select, shall go to Richmond, at the earliest days for this purpose, and put an end to finesse, and if possible to this war.

We are advised that Mr. Croswell, who represents our Democratic views, is quite willing to co-operate with you, should the President consent and permit such a Committee to pass to Richmond for this end.

We are the more solicitious because we think this an opportune moment to renew negotiations for peace and re-union, and history admonishes us not to rely too much upon the virtue of arms. Let us accept fortune when the tide is in our favor, and not push the war so far as may bring us reverse, and perchance disaster.

Fully relying upon your patriotic efforts to save our country, we submit to you these considerations, trusting that you will prepare the way, and be one of the Gentlemen who shall at once repair to Richmond, under the protection of the Government

We remain Most Respectfully

Yours &c

NEW YORK March 24th 1865
10 Wall St.

HON. HORACE GREELEY

MY DEAR SIR

Your note of the 22^d was duly rec^d and in connection therewith your leader of that date and of to-day were attentively read. Nothing could be better to advance your purpose, and it would seem that the President acted upon the interview thus had with Mr. Forney if one can judge that his present movement means anything.

We have considered the matter of your letter and trust that the Presidents action has some relation to it; and if it should turn out differently as you will soon know through Mr. Forney, then we suggest that you still press the question firmly in every way and if advisable go to Washington and see the President himself. We are not little surprised that Seward should stand in the way of peace, and that his organ here, The Times, should now as heretofore, resist any attempt to accomplish this end, save by continued Slaughter. Judging from this, we have not in any way sought an interview with any Republican excepting yourself. Should it be thought well to see any of the friends of Mr. Seward do you think

Mr. Weed would be the person to approach to advance the solution of the peace question; if so Mr. Croswell might seek an interview at the earliest opportunity.

It is due to say to you that Mr. Croswell seeks no part in this, and is only too desirous that no mistakes shall be made, through want of due precautions, and he does not in any way wish to take any active part. His personal relations with Mr. Weed are such as to enable him to discover his position upon this matter and should it yet be best to sound him and endeavour to get him to urge on Mr. Seward he says he will do it.

However the military negotiations sought through Gen^l. Lee presents another the direct and practical question of settlement.

How can the administration refuse any longer to invest Lt Gen^l. Grant with ample power to meet Gen^l. Lee, in this conference for peace & here we trust you will stand firm and drive the Administration, if need be, to accept the opportunity to close, if possible, this devastating war.

We believe your leader of the 22nd will cheer the great mass of men in the South and win to you their kind regards. It is in every way calculated to renew kindly relations among us and may your party have the wisdom to carry out its magnanimity to the letter & sustain constitutional rights.

We have found that the North when elated with success might become domineering and exacting, and especially your party which has not loved the South as much as we of the Democratic side. Hence we appreciate the course you now take and know it will eventuate in good to the whole land.

We thought this acknowledgement due to you at this time, the more particularly as our side of the house do not always so completely harmonize with you.

We have no doubt from what we can see that a constitutional restoration of the Union, is within the grasp of the President, and he has but to seize this opportunity.

If we can further any interview among the Sewardites we will do it so as not to involve you, if you think that the safe way & you can suggest what to do.

If the Sewardites stand out, had not the truth better come out? One of your leaders declaring that Seward is the only obstacle to peace, would shake the timid Secretary, and bring him to terms, we think; or if you should think it better he can be attacked through the Democratic press

We remain most truly &c

HENRY CLAY ON NAPOLEON'S RETURN FROM ELBA, 1815.

Printed from the original manuscript in the New York Public Library.

(Private)

LONDON 25 Mar. 1815

MY DEAR SIR

On the 17th inst immediately after hearing at Paris of the ratification of the Treaty of Ghent I quitted that City and arrived here on the 21st inst. I left there all my colleagues. Mr Gallatin expected to follow me in a day or two, and Mr Bayard as soon as a dangerous indisposition, then confining him to bed and menacing his life would allow

We had notified the British Commrs at Ghent of our having a Commission to treat of Commerce— We did not expect this Government would go into that subject until they knew of the ratification of the Treaty of peace. I thought therefore, as soon as this event was known, that it was our duty to be here in order to enter into this business, if the British Government be so disposed. My own private wish is at the same time that the President may have turned this duty over to the Minister who I presume is appointed to this Court

The question of a Commercial treaty in my judgment of little importance, except on one or two points, heretofore, has now that the peace of Europe is again threatened assumed a new character

I saw Lord Castlereah, yesterday; but the attention of this Government is so completely absorbed by the astonishing events on the other side of the channel that they have not yet taken up the subject of a Commercial treaty with us. I shall of course abstain from pressing the matter or taking any step in it until joined by my Colleagues. In the mean time I hope we shall receive dispatches from our Government and that they will be of such a nature as to admit of my immediate return

Bonaparte entered France, near Frejus on the 1st instant at the head of about 1200 men. On the 20th he entered Paris. His progress to the Capital resembled more a triumphal entry than a hostile march wherever he came in contact with the Military they joined him. None could be found to fight for the King. The people with him were passive or were awed. Nothing like resistance has been made

The King and the other members of the Royal family who were in Paris left it on the 19th and proceeding North are said to be about to make a stand at Lisle. To this City the Diplomatick Corps is invited. Here it is conjectured he will be supported by the English forces in Flanders. I am deceived however if his residence there is not short. The people of Flanders will afford him as little support as the people of France. They desire to return under the French dominion

What effect this will have in Europe cannot be certainly ascertained at present. The allies at Vienna have announced it is said their determined purpose to put down Napoleon. I do not believe that they will attempt it— The principle of the former alliance is gone. The seeds of dissension have been sown during the Congress, and Napoleon profiting by past errors and past experience will immediately quiet Austria

But I think war between this Country and France inevitable. Napoleon must do something. He must give employment to that military the loss of whose employment estranged them from the King and confirmed their attachment to him. He will strike for Belgium; and the pride, the hopes and mistaken interests of England all combine to urge her to attempt to retain it. Already the Mails are stopped, and the foolish cry of War every where resounds. I hope the career of Blockades, Orders, Decrees, Confiscations, and Burnings will not again be run

The Duke of Feltre, Louis's Minister of War, is here probably concerting measures of co-operation. Still I should doubt if the first determination of this Government be yet taken. On Monday Sen'night the Parliament, now adjourned for the Easter Holidays will again meet, and I presume at that time Ministers will communicate the part this Government means to take

I am Dr. Sir

Your friend &c

BRITISH.

* The British parliamentary papers and other serial official publications contain much naval material. The Calendars of State Papers (the file of which is complete) have a careful index in each volume. The parliamentary papers contain committee returns, commission reports, text of bills, etc.

General indexes to the collected papers have been printed as follows: Catalogue of parliamentary reports, 1696-1834; Index to printed papers, 1801-1826, 1801-1832, 1845-1856, 1852-1869; Index to reports, 1801-1834; Index to bills and reports, 1801-1852. The Lords and Commons journals each have their own indexes beginning in 1509 (Lords) and 1547 (Commons). Hansard's Debates (and its predecessors) have useful indexes, for which reason few reports of speeches in parliament have been included in this list.

Annual reports of departmental activities, similar to those issued by departments of the United States, are not printed by Great Britain.

A. Wallis-Budge (London, 1904), 2 volumes; from Miss Ruth Putnam, a copy of her "Mediæval princess . . . Jacqueline, Countess of Holland" (New York, 1904); from Nicolas Rivero, Havana, "Recuerdos de viaje" (Habana, 1904); from Mrs. Cynthia Morgan St. John, a copy of the "Lines written after the death of Charles Lamb" by William Wordsworth, privately printed from the original edition of 1835 (Ithaca, 1901); from the Shanghai Municipal Council, 4 volumes, reports and budgets; from the Società Umanitaria, Milano, 1 volume and 39 pamphlets; from the United States Cavalry Association, 9 volumes of the journal of the Association; from Everett P. Wheeler, a complete set of United States patents for secondary batteries down to August 10, 1886; and from Charles Tyson Yerkes, a copy of the "Chronicle of the Yerkes family, with notes on the Leech and Rutter families," by Josiah Granville Leach (Philadelphia; privately printed, 1904).

At the Lenox Branch were continued the exhibitions of wood engravings by Elbridge Kingsley, after Ludwig Richter, and Moritz, Ritter von Schwind, and also the exhibition of Isabey's lithographs. The exhibition of plates from H. I. Triggs' "Formal Gardens in England and Scotland" at the Astor Branch was continued. There was no change in the exhibition of New York City views at the Harlem Branch, or in the "Arts of Japan" at the Chatham Square Branch.

On June 22 was opened at the Lenox branch an exhibition to commemorate the three-hundredth anniversary of discoveries by Samuel de Champlain and the Sieur de Monts, made in 1604 on the coast of Maine and the Canadian provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia; the exhibition shows an unbroken series of Champlain's own printed works, and a selection of biographies, portraits, views and maps, as well as source-material by his contemporaries Lescarbot, Biard, Sagard, and Le Jeune.

To commemorate the centenary of the birth of Nathaniel Hawthorne was opened at the Lenox branch, on Saturday, July 2nd, an exhibition of his works (a complete series of first editions), manuscripts written by him, portraits, views of his haunts and homes, and books about him.

A list of the pieces shown is printed in this BULLETIN, pages 312 to 322.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE TO E. A. DUYCKINCK ON HERMAN MELVILLE IN 1850.

From the original manuscript in the New York Public Library.

LENOX, AUGUST 29th. 1850.

MY DEAR SIR,

I have read Melville's works with a progressive appreciation of the author. No writer ever put the reality before his reader more unflinchingly than he does in "Redburn," and "White Jacket." "Mardi" is a rich book, with depths here and there that compel a man to swim for his life. It is so good that one scarcely pardons the writer for not having brooded long over it, so as to make it a great deal better.

You will see by my wife's note that I have all along had one staunch admirer; and with her to back me, I really believe I should do very well without any other. Nevertheless, I must own that I have read the articles in the Literary World with very great pleasure. The writer has a truly generous heart; nor do I think it necessary to appropriate the whole magnificence of his encomium, any more than to devour everything on the table, when a host of noble hospitality spreads a banquet before me. But he is no common man; and, next to deserving his praise, it is good to have beguiled or bewitched such a man into praising me more than I deserve.

Sincerely yours,
NATH^L HAWTHORNE.

E. A. DUYCKINCK, Esq.
New York.

LIST OF BOOKS, ETC., BY AND RELATING TO NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE, PREPARED AS AN EXHIBITION* TO COMMEMORATE THE CENTENARY OF HIS BIRTH, BY VICTOR HUGO PALTSITS, ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN, LENOX BRANCH.

Unless otherwise indicated the items are owned by the NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY; loans are designated as such. All of Hawthorne's separate publications, in their first editions, are recorded; but the list does not profess to be complete in so far as analytical magazine articles are concerned, even of those in the library. The order of arrangement is as follows:

5. MANUSCRIPTS.

Prepared by G. DeC. Curtis.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). The Old Manse. Original MS. of the first article in Hawthorne's "Mosses from an Old Manse." 1846. A.D. 32 pp., 1 port, 1 pl. 4°. Half morocco.

Printed in: Mosses from an Old Manse (New York: Wiley & Putnam, 1846), vol. 1, pp. 1-31.

The letter of Apr. 18, 1846, which accompanied the above MS., is filed with the rest of Hawthorne's letters to Duyckinck in the New York Public Library.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). [Review of] The Supernaturalism of New England, by J. G. Whittier. 1847. A.D. 3 pp. 4°.

Printed in the Literary World, vol. 1, 1847, p. 247. At the foot of this article is an autograph note of Apr. 1, 1847, from Hawthorne to E. A. Duyckinck.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Boston, Dec. 22, 1841. To Cornelius Mathews and Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. Expresses gratitude for the article about himself in the May number of Arc-turus; during the summer, his fingers were too stiff with agricultural work to permit him to write; he would rather receive earnest praise from one man than be deemed a tolerably pleasant writer by a thousand; mentions several of his early stories that appeared in the Token and the New England Magazine; they grew out of quietude and seclusion, the lack of which will probably prevent him from writing any more; offers any of his stories gratis for Arcturus. A. L. S. 3 pp. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Concord, [Mass.], Nov. 26, 1843. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. Acknowledges letter with extract from the Review; praise is all the more sweet to him now because of the pleasure it gives to his wife; his tales were thrown out into the infinite, and miraculously found their way to friends; invites Duyckinck to visit him; his old parsonage is so quiet that every one falls asleep there, yet he feels for the first time as if he were awake; has nothing to wish for, except more certainty about his livelihood; at present, his copyrights are not worth sixpence. A. L. S. 2 pp., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Concord, Mar. 2, 1845. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. He has been employed in arranging a journal kept by a friend [Horatio Bridge] during a cruise on the west coast of Africa; he has remodelled and developed it where necessary, without altering the facts; it makes a respectable book, though not a very artistic production; he will send the MS., when finished, to Duyckinck. A. L. S. 1 p., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Concord, Apr. 7, 1845. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. Sends the MS. of his friend's cruise in the Saratoga, revised and approved by its author, to whom all the solid merit is due; he will take advantage of Wiley & Putnam's offer for a volume of tales, as soon as he can find quietude enough to write two new ones; names the old ones which he would select; O'Sullivan is moving heaven and earth to get him an office, though he could hardly find a happier place than this; he is the father of a little girl; boys have their peculiar value, but he feels a delightful awe in being the father of a future woman; mentions terms of publication. A. L. S. 2 pp., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Concord, May 2, 1845. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. He would have preferred that the Journal should come before the public without his own name, so that the author [Horatio Bridge] might have the whole credit of the book; the author wishes fifty copies, many of which will be so disposed as to increase the circulation of the work; the cost of these may be deducted from his [Hawthorne's] percentage; he has begun a story, but it makes no progress; Duyckinck handled him too gently in the Democratic. 1 p., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Concord, July 1, 1845. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. He makes no progress with his story; feels no physical vigor, and is fit only for such book-manufacture as the Journal; his purpose was to construct a sort of frame-work for the series of stories already published, and to make the scene an idealization of his old parsonage, with glimmerings of his actual life; perhaps such sketches will be more easily written after he has pitched his tent elsewhere, in a few months; he sounded Emerson on the subject of a contribution to the series of American books, but the latter prefers to publish on his own account, and now contemplates collecting his poetry into a volume; Emerson's reputation is still provincial, partly because of defects in the New England system of publication; as for Thoreau, there is one chance in a thousand that he might write a most excellent book; Thoreau is the most unmanageable fellow alive, tedious and intolerable, yet with great qualities of intellect and character; the only way in which he could approach the popular mind would be by writing a book of simple observation of nature; he [Hawthorne] recommends the Legends of Lampidosa for republication in the Library of Choice Reading; he read them many years ago, and admired them. A. L. S. 3 pp. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Salem, [Mass.], Oct. 10, 1845. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. His landlord having driven him out of paradise, he is now in his mother's house, in the dusky room where he wasted years of his youth, shaping dreams into idle stories; he now regrets that he burned the greater part of these; however, he finds himself in the same mood, and something will result as soon as his mind is cleared of recent anxieties; he has often thought of a history of witchcraft, but he would not like to throw it off hastily, nor for the sole purpose of getting $500; the Cruiser [Horatio Bridge] is delighted at his literary success; setting aside his own trimmings and varnishings, the innate good-sense of the book deserves all the favor it has met with. A. L. S. 2 pp., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Salem, Dec. 21, 1845. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. The wretched tale still refuses to unfold its convolutions; he writes, but is conscious that he is not writing the true thing; perhaps he has reached that point when the mind ceases to effervesce, and when whatever he does must be done with leaden reluctance, and therefore had better be left undone; he would be glad to receive any profits that may be due on the African Cruiser. A. L. S. 1 p., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Salem, Jan. 24, 1846. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. The Dartmoor papers are in O'Sullivan's hands, and Duyckinck can decide whether or not they will suit the Library; he has made only verbal corrections and omissions of many passages, not varnishing them, after the manner of the Cruiser, as their ruggedness is proper to an old privateersman; he likes the plan of publishing his own works in two volumes; they may be offered to the public as his last, as he never means to write any more stories; he regrets that he cannot better justify himself for having written at all; as first essays of a young author they would be well enough, but he has grace enough to be utterly dissatisfied with them. A. L. S. 2 pp., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Salem, Feb. 22, 1846. To E. A. Duyckinck, New York. At last, he sends the copy for Part Second of the proposed collection; he hopes that it will soon be followed by the contents of Part First; he has bestowed much consideration upon the title of the book: "Wall-Flowers from an Old Abbey" is too fine; "Moss and Lichens from an Old Parsonage" not tripping enough; "Mosses from an Old Manse" suits him better, and if his wife agrees with him, so shall it be christened; all these titles refer to the old Owl's Nest at Concord, to which the introductory article will refer. A. L. S. 1 p., 1 l., with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Salem, Apr. 18, 1846. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. Sends the initial article, promised so long ago; nothing that he tried to write would flow, till this sketch came forth of its own accord; it is truth, with perhaps a gleam of ideal light over it, and it was written as impersonally as could be done, considering the nature of the thing; he has just become an office-holder, but is in want of money; has long thought of some stories to be taken out of the cold moonshine of classical mythology and modernised, or gothicised, for children; his office, the duties of it being chiefly performed by deputy, will allow him ample time for literature; he means to leave off magazine writing and try history and biography; sent a notice of "Typee" some time ago, and will notice any number of Duyckinck's series in the Democratic paper of this town. A. L. S. 2 pp., 1 l., with address. 4°.

The original MS. of the initial article, "The Old Manse," is in the New York Public Library.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Salem, Apr. 30, 1846. To E. A. Duyckinck, New York. He wishes fifty copies of the "Mosses"; asks that one be given to each of the following persons: Margaret Fuller, E. A. Poe, H. T. Tuckerman, G. W. Curtis, and R. W. Griswold; two copies to be handsomely bound, for Mrs. Bancroft and Miss Susan Kearney Rodgers; two others for Atherton and Fairfield, of the Senate; the rest for New England; sends a notice from the Salem Advertiser of two books sent him by Duyckinck; he does not pique himself on these critical attempts, for though he knows what he likes, he is always at a loss to render a reason; "Manse" was the familiar name for their old house. A. L. S. 1 p., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Salem, May 29, 1846. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. He wishes to have another copy of the "Mosses" bound in calf and transmitted, with the rest, to Miss E. P. Peabody; also a copy in paper to Rev. S[amuel] Gilman, Charleston; if Duyckinck should come to Boston in the summer, he will find Hawthorne established with his household at 77 Carver street. A. L. S. 1 p., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Boston, June 10, 1846. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. He has been ill for a week with a slow fever; the volume in calf is for his friend Bridge's new wife; George W. Curtis being at Brook Farm, his copy may be sent hither with the rest. A. L. S. 1 p., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Salem, Mar. 13, 1847. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. W. Ellery Channing is spending a week with him, and has brought the MS. of a work called "Conversations between an Artist, a Catholic, and a Critic"; it is a discussion of Roman topics, viewed from different points; he cannot speak of its literary merits, having only glanced over it, but the writer is a remarkable man; he asks Duyckinck's assistance in bringing the work before the public. A. L. S. 2 pp., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Salem, Mar. 20 [1847]. To E. A. Duyckinck, New York. Sends Channing's "Conversations," which contains higher and better criticism than he has before met with on the same subjects; one should not suppose, from the aspect of the MS., that it was carelessly thrown off; it was written in earnest, and the many omissions only show the severity of the author's judgment upon himself; thanks Duyckinck for Whittier's book ["Supernaturalism in New England"], which he means to notice shortly; it is a good little book enough, but cannot be praised very rapturously. A. L. S. In lead-pencil. 2 pp., 1 l. with address. 12°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Surveyor's Office, [Salem, Mass.,] Apr. 1, 1847. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. In writing the above notice [of Whittier's "Supernaturalism in New England"] he has been singularly bothered by idlers and men of business, and finally wrote it with an interruption between every two sentences; it is not very good,—about upon a par with the book; he asks nothing for what he may do for the Literary World; the paper itself will be an adequate remuneration. A. L. S.

The above letter is subjoined to the MS. of Hawthorne's review of Whittier's book, which review was printed in the Literary World, vol. 1, p. 247.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Salem, Jan. 8, 1850. To Ticknor & Co., Boston. Will send the copy next week; he cannot think of a name for the book [The Scarlet Letter]; fears it must go to press without one; the name has already cost him more perplexity than any fifty pages of the volume. Transcript. [About 1850?] 1 p. 12°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Lenox, [Mass.,] Aug. 29, 1850. To E. A. Duyckinck, New York. He has read Melville's works with glowing appreciation; "Redburn" and "White Jacket" are unflinchingly real; "Mardi" is a rich book, but the writer should have brooded longer over it; he [Hawthorne] has always had one staunch admirer, as may be seen by his wife's note; with her to back him, he really needs no other; nevertheless he read the articles in the Literary World with great pleasure; the writer of them has a truly generous heart, and it is good to have won the praise of such a man. A. L. S. 2 pp. 12°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Pittsfield, [Mass.,] Mar. 14, 1851. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. He writes from the house of Herman Melville; will be pleased to show his face in Duyckinck's magazine, which seems to him a miracle of cheapness and merit; the "Unpardonable Sin" was published, he thinks, in the Boston Museum; he will be happy to have Duyckinck use it, and has no objection to the suggested change of title. A. L. S. 1 p., 1 l. with address. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel.) Lenox, Apr. 27, 1851. To E. A. Duyckinck, New York. He knew nothing of Griswold's intention to copy the portrait, having declined all such proposals except in the case of the Dollar Magazine; at any rate, he is punished by the result, and, what is most provoking, the children persist in recognizing the mangled head for his; he was delighted with "Lavengro," which he read aloud to his wife; they were both gratified with Duyckinck's notice of the "Seven Gables," which he appeared to like better than the "Scarlet Letter"; the "Seven Gables" was certainly a more natural and healthy product, and he felt less reluctance in publishing it; he does not understand its melancholy aspect in Duyckinck's eyes, he himself having thought it rather cheerful; but perhaps in writing it he looked forward to its prosperous close, while the gloom of the past threw its shadow along the reader's pathway; he is glad to have his style considered plain, and wishes people would leave off talking about its beauty; the greatest possible merit of style is, to make the mere words absolutely disappear into the thought; he and Melville talk of making an excursion to New York; the city in summer, with awnings and iced liquors, is more agreeable to him than the country, which is best for active enjoyment in late autumn and winter; he wishes to thank [Cornelius] Mathews for the Dollar Magazine containing a pleasant mention of his book; this book-making life must be unwholesome, since it leads one to speak so much about one's self. A. L. S. 4 pp. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Lenox, Oct. 19, 1851. To —? His correspondent's account of Salem witchcraft is lucid and satisfactory, and he finds little to correct except a certain Carlyleism in the style; as to editorship, he is not inclined to assume that responsibility, always an undesirable one; feels reluctant to connect himself with a work of mystic character, as his reputation has already too much fog and mist diffused through it, and to set himself up as a sponsor for other people's books of demonology would give him a bad name. Transcript. [About 1880?] 4 pp. 12°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). West - Newton [Mass.], Dec. 1, 1851. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. He has run away from the Berkshire winter, having given up Lenox for good and all; regrets that he will no longer profit by Duyckinck's visits to Melville; the latter's recent book [Moby Dick] gives an idea of much greater power than the preceding ones; the review of it in the Literary World hardly did justice to its best points. A. L. S. 1 p., envelope. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Concord, June 15, 1852. [To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York.] He has bought a house at Concord, and feels himself, for the first time in his life, at home; it is an old farm-house, but the previous owner, Mr. Alcott, the Orphic Sayer, had wasted much money in fitting it up; it is the raggedest place in the world, but will make a comfortable home; Alcott called it "Hillside," but he has re-baptized it the "Wayside"; the papers announced that he had begun a new work, the day after finishing the "Blithedale Romance"; his intellect is not so flexible; has not yet thought of the first sentence of another book. A. L. S. 2 ll. 4°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Concord, July 3, 1853. To Evert A. Duyckinck, New York. He sails on Wednesday for Liverpool; asks that the Literary World be sent to him there; he will probably meet with literary information suitable for the paper, in which case he will send a communication, always under the rose; any small service of that kind will be but a slight return for Duyckinck's long continued favors. A. L. S. 2 ll., envelope. 12°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Liverpool, Sept. 22, 1853. To E. A. Duyckinck [New York]. Introduces Henry Hughes, of Mississippi, who has been travelling in Europe, and wishes advice on the subject of a work which he proposes to publish. A. L. S. 1 p., 1 l. with pencil note by Duyckinck. 12°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Liverpool, Oct. 14, 1856. Certificate, as U. S. Consul for the Port of Liverpool, issued to Thomas Southam in connection with an affidavit on an invoice. D. S. Printed form filled in. 1 p. 12°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Concord, Apr. 5, 1861. To Charles F. Ulrich, Hartford [Conn.]. He complies with the request for an autograph the more willingly because of the writer's courtesy in sending a stamped envelope. A. L. S. 1 p. 12°.

Hawthorne (Nathaniel). Clippings from newspapers, magazines, etc., relating to Hawthorne. About 50 pieces.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE at the age of 26. Bust, directed and facing to the left, looking to the front. Without moustache. Nathaniel Hawthorne [facsim. of signature] | Engraved by T. Phillibrown From a Painting by C. G. Thompson. | Boston, Ticknor & Fields. Line engraving.

— Same, with last line changed to Boston, Ticknor, Reed & Fields, 1851.

— Same, with last line omitted, as published in "Homages of American Authors," New York, Putnam, 1853.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE at the age of 36. Bust, without moustache, directed to the front, facing and looking to the left. Etched by S. A. Schoff.

This etching, showing head and neck only, is after the painting by Osgood, which latter is reproduced in full, in half-tone, in "Exercises in commemoration of the birth of Nathaniel Hawthorne by the Essex Institute . . . 23 June, 1904," on the cover of which pamphlet there appears also a half-length portrait of Hawthorne, with moustache, holding a soft hat in his left hand.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE at the age of 56. Half-length, seated, directed to the front, facing and looking to the left. From a photograph by Mayall, London, 1860. Wood-engraving by T. Johnson.

From Harper's Magazine, July, 1886. Issued also as one of "Harper's Black and White Prints." This wood engraving does not reproduce the entire photograph, which is shown in three-quarter length in the half-tone published in the New York Herald June 26, 1904. The following six portraits are all based on this photograph. S. A. Schoff's etching of the head alone appears in Julian Hawthorne's "Nathaniel Hawthorne and his wife" (Boston, 1885).

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Bust, directed to the front, facing and looking to the left. Medallion by Ringel d'Ilzsch, 1892, published by the Grolier Club. Half-tone reproduction in the club's leaflet, Feb. 15, 1893, announcing publication.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Bust, directed to the front, facing and looking to the right. Line engraving.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Bust, directed to the front, facing and looking to the right. "From a sketch in the possession of the publishers." Photo-mechanical reproduction.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Bust, directed and facing to the right, looking to the front. Engraved for the Eclectic by C. Pelton. Line engraving.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Bust, directed to the front, facing and looking to the right. Etching, by S. A. Schoff. Published in "Nathaniel Hawthorne, by G. E. Woodberry" (Boston, 1902).

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE at the age of 58. Bust, directed to the right, facing and looking to the front. S. A. Schoff ap. fort. Etching.

Published in "Nathaniel Hawthorne and his wife, by Julian Hawthorne," (Boston, 1885.)

Loaned by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Bust, directed to the right, facing and looking to the front. Engraving by John Andrew, Jr., published in "Memoirs of Hawthorne, by Rose Hawthorne Lathrop" (Boston, 1897).

This is quite similar to the preceding, but there is almost no hair on the crown of the head. A small photogravure copy of the present portrait appears in "Nathaniel Hawthorne, by Annie Fields" (Boston, 1899), with this note: "The photogravure used as a frontispiece to this volume is from a photograph taken about 1862, by J. W. Black, Boston."

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Three-quarter length, seated; directed to the right, facing and looking to the front. From a photograph by Brady. Half-tone plate engraved by H. Davidson.

Published in the Century Magazine for July, 1904.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Bust, directed and facing to the right. Looking to the front. Reproduced from the crayon drawing by Samuel W. Rowse. Photomechanical reproduction.

Published in "Hawthorne and his circle, by Julian Hawthorne" (New York, 1903), in which book appear also a picture of "The Wayside" (showing Hawthorne and his wife) and a reproduction of a group photograph of James T. Fields, Hawthorne, and Wm. D. Ticknor, full lengths, wearing tall hats.

NATHANIEL HAWTHORNE. Residence of Nathl. Hawthorne, Concord, Mass., | G. P. Putnam & Co. N. Y. Line engraving by J. D. Duthie, after W. R. Miller.

In "Homes of American authors," New York, Putnam, 1853.

FRENCH.

No attempt has been made here to analyze for naval material the file of the French parliamentary papers—now nearly complete. These papers include, in addition to parliamentary debates, committee and commission reports, etc. They do not contain reports of departments. In recent years indexes are published at the close of each session.

TWO LETTERS FROM SIMON CAMERON TO HORACE GREELEY, 1862-1863.

WASHINGTON D. C.
JANUARY 15. 1862

MY DEAR GREELEY

After many kindnesses towards me, for which I shall ever be grateful, and for which I should have long since thanked you, I feel exceedingly pained at a portion of an article in the "Tribune" of yesterday which I take the liberty to enclose.

In this article you speak of contracts made by myself. I had really hoped that you had long ago been convinced, from what you have often heard me say, that I have never made any contract in connection with this Department. I admit that I have a great many friends who have urged me to give them contracts; but the records of this office will show that I have never made a contract, or directed one to be made for any friends of mine.

At the conclusion of your article, as if you had not been unkind enough, you say "A generous public will make due allowance for all that was novel and trying in the situation; but why contracts should have been made for arms at famine prices to be delivered six or eight months hence, we confess our inability to say."

On this subject, Friend Greeley, I desire to make a word of explanation. You and I, while politically we agreed in nothing else, have for long years been warm and constant advocates of domestic industry. And in accordance with that principle, so long maintained by us, have I acted with regard to the purchase of arms.

When I entered the War Department I found that our arsenals were without sufficient supplies even for the first levies called into service, and I immediately ordered the Ordnance Dept. to purchase every musket and rifle, of whatever quality that could be found in the country. I also increased the capacity of the only armory possessed by the Government until its monthly product was augmented from 800 to 10,000 Springfield muskets, and in addition an agent was sent abroad to purchase a sufficient number of arms to supply the troops in the field. After finding, as you, Greeley, ought to know that the loss of arms is immense—at least 33 per cent. per annum—I determined that in no event should our army be without guns to protect itself and the country. With this view I directed the Ordnance Dept. to make contracts with private parties in the United States, in numbers sufficient to cover any demand that might arise—as well because I have never believed that this struggle would terminate within a year, as for the purpose of giving encouragement to our machine shops and our capitalists.

I directed that these contracts should be made at fair prices, for a year's supply, after those in hand should have been expended in service. If I am not greatly mistaken, all the arms that will be thus furnished will be of better quality at less cost, than those purchased abroad. I submit to your known good sense that the policy thus inaugurated is far preferable to that hitherto pursued, of confining the manufacture of muskets to the national armories alone. Should the war continue over a year, any other policy would compel us to resort again to foreign markets, at the same trouble, expense, delay, and risk that have attended such transactions up to the present time.

During the past summer there were three thousand miles of water between our soldiers and the muskets that should have been upon their shoulders; and at that time there was no machinery in this country capable of producing a Springfield musket other than that which was contained in the National Armory.

I would rather have a million of guns in excess of our wants, than to have a single regiment without arms in a battle that might decide the destinies of the nation

Upon this record thus hastily stated, I feel assured that a sensible and generous man like yourself will do me the justice to correct the erroneous impression which your article is calculated to produce,

very truly yr. friend

LOCHIEL MAY 20, 1863

DEAR SIR

Your Washington correspondent has done wrong to the President in stating that Mr Bayard Taylor had been removed. It is not so. He positively declined remaining in St. Petersburg as Secretary of Legation, and at his request I made his determination known to Mr Lincoln and Mr Seward. They both expressed their regret, and were pleased to compliment him very highly for the manner in which his duties had been performed. They, also, desired me to beg him to remain till a proper successor could reach the Russian Capital, to this I may add—I hope without any breach of confidence—that the Government has offered to Mr Taylor without any solicitation on his part, a most important and delicate task in another country. By this you will see that Bayard Taylor has not lost the confidence of the administration—and in writing the correction you will, I hope, hint to your agent in Washington the indelicacy of imagining facts which may wound the feelings of others

very truly yours

JOHN JACOB ASTOR TO JAMES MONROE ON THE FUR TRADE IN 1815.

Printed from the original manuscript in the New York Public Library.

NEW YORK MAY 27. 1815.

SIR

I am informed that Congress have at about the close of the Session passed an Act for the regulation of the trade with the Indians within the territory of the United States, and that by this Act none but Citizens of the United States are permitted to come among our Indians unless by special permission of the President.

I am glad that this Law has passed, it ought to have been so some years ago, and in that case the trade would have been in proper hands ere this. It is however to be feared that unless some few Canadian traders are permitted to go in this year we will not find a sufficient number of men acquainted with the trade to supply the Indians and especially those who reside far in the interior. I made last year a provisional Agreement with the People in Canada to carry on a trade for joint Account with them unless Congress passed some Act and regulation which should render such connection incompatible and this Act I understand will render it completely so and of course the agreement becomes void. The result will be that the trade will now fall more to my lot and I propose to prosecute it extensively. There is however a difficulty for the moment in getting proper and trusty men who are acquainted with the trade and we want from 6 to 9 more good traders I wish therefore that the President would please to give six to nine Licenses they might be sent in blank & filled at Michilemackinac to such persons as the Collector or Commanding officer shall judge best. The Goods which I have sent to that place last fall and this Spring amount to at least $150M, and unless we can get some of the Canadian traders we shall not find the means to dispose of them—and there will be great distress among the Indians; next year we shall have no need of foreigners. I have written to Mr. Crawford on this subject. As the measure is very urgent on Account of the season I am from necessity enduced to write to you and to beg you would have the goodness to speak to the President.

I have the Honnour

To be most Respectfully

Sir

Your most obed Serv^t

JOHN JACOB ASTOR

UNITED STATES.

The Navy Department was established pursuant to provisions of act of Apr. 30, 1798 (1 R. S. 553, 70). On Feb. 7, 1815 (3 R. S. 202), an act was passed providing for the appointment of a board of three commissioners, to be selected from officers of the navy not below the rank of post-captain, whose duty was to discharge the ministerial duties of the office of secretary of the navy, under his superintendence. By act of Aug. 31, 1842 (5 R. S. 579), this board of commissioners was abolished, and the following five bureaus were authorized and attached to the department, viz.: Navy Yards and Docks; Construction, Equipment and Repairs; Provisions and Clothing; Ordnance and Hydrography; Medicine and Surgery. By act of July 5, 1862 (12 R. S. 510, 71), the department was reorganized and the following bureaus established therein, in lieu of the foregoing, viz.: Bureau of Yards and Docks; Bureau of Equipment [and Recruiting]; Bureau of Navigation; Bureau of Ordnance, Bureau of Construction and Repair; Bureau of Steam Engineering; Bureau of Supplies and Accounts; Bureau of Medicine and Surgery.

The Hydrographic Office, authorized under the act of Aug. 31, 1842 (5 St. L. 576), as the "Observatory and chart depot," was established in 1845 and styled the "United States Naval Observatory and Hydrographic Office"; it took its present name and organization under the act of June 21, 1866 (14 St. L. 691 R. S. 72). Its annual report (1866-date) is included in the annual report of the Secretary of the navy. The Nautical Almanac Office was established pursuant to provisions of act of March 3, 1849 (9 St. L. 375), and March 3, 1857 (11 St. L. 246, R. S. 73). The Naval Observatory was established by acts of Aug. 31, 1842 (5 St. L. 576), Mar. 3, 1847 (9 St. L. 169), Aug. 3, 1848 (9 St. L. 266), and March 3, 1865 (13 St. L. 533, R. S. 73). Office of Judge-Advocate-General: Pursuant to provisions of act of Mch. 2, 1865 (13 St. L. 468), an officer in the Navy Department was authorized to be appointed Solicitor and Naval Judge-Advocate-General during the war, and one year thereafter. The office was appropriated for annually until March 4, 1869, when, according to provisions of act of July 20, 1863 (15 St. L. 103), the office ceased. Act of March 3, 1869 (15 St. L. 313), continued the salary from Mch. 4, 1869, to June 30, 1870, when, according to provisions of act of June 22, 1870 (16 St. L. 162; R. S. 20), the office was transferred to the Department of Justice and designated Office of Naval Solicitor; this was abolished by the act of June 19, 1878 (20 St. L. 205; R. S. Suppl. 201). On June 8, 1880 (21 St. L. 164; R. S. Suppl. 290), was authorized the appointment, by the President, of a judge-advocate-general of the navy. He is appointed for a term of four years, from the officers of the navy or marine corps, with rank, pay, and allowances of a captain in the navy or a colonel in the marine corps; his duties are to receive, revise and record proceedings of all courts-martial, courts of inquiry, and boards for the examination of officers for promotion or retirement. The Office of Naval Records of the Rebellion was organized pursuant to provisions of act of July 7, 1884 (23 R. S. 185).

(Navy Department.)

The register was first issued in 1814 and registers were printed annually until 1861, except that none was issued for 1816. In August, 1861, a supplemental register was issued; none was printed for Jan. 1862; one was issued in Sept., 1862, and in January of each year from 1863 onwards, except 1878. The semi-annual issue began again with Aug., 1866, and was continued to July, 1886, except that the July, 1876, and July, 1879, registers were omitted. In 1887 the regular annual register was dated Feb. 1, but the whole edition of this issue was recalled as far as possible. When the July, 1887, register was issued it appeared in the form of the full annual register.

The New York Public Library file lacks the issue for Jan., 1817, Jan., 1821, Jan., 1823, Jan., 1824, Feb., 1887.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR

FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1904.

July 1, 1904.

Hon. JOHN BIGELOW,
President New York Public Library.

SIR:

I have the honor to submit the following report of the work of this Library for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1904:

The death of Andrew H. Green, one of the three original members of the Tilden Trust, and a trustee of the New York Public Library since consolidation, caused a vacancy in the Board of Trustees on November 13, 1903. On December 9 this vacancy was filled by the election of Most Reverend John Murphy Farley, D.D., Archbishop of New York.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The current activity of the Library is shown by the figures in the following summary:

In the reference branches readers and visitors numbered 184,222; 128,872 desk applicants consulted 524,097 volumes (corresponding figures for 1902-3 being 110,162 desk applicants and 439,465 volumes). 25,012 volumes and 75,458 pamphlets were received; 27,100 volumes and 15,715 pamphlets were accessioned, making the total number available for readers 629,506 volumes and 240,337 pamphlets. The print department now contains 93,380 prints; there has been little increase in the music, map, or manuscript departments. There were catalogued 34,897 volumes and 31,345 pamphlets, for which 291,380 cards were written or manifolded; the public catalogues in the Astor and Lenox reading rooms contain now 1,117,886 cards; 1,571 periodicals are indexed number by number, for which 18,950 cards or printers' slips were written. Periodicals currently received amount to 5,155, readers of periodicals at the Astor branch 27,055, and these readers called for 218,033 single numbers or pieces.

In the circulation department the number of branches has increased from 19 to 22; volumes in the department from 321,945 to 384,399, circulation for home use from 2,801,331 to 3,291,374. Two Carnegie branches have been opened; three others are ready for opening; twelve new sites have been secured. There is now a total of 22 sites available for or occupied by Carnegie branches.

REFERENCE LIBRARIES.NEW BUILDING.

The work on the new building in Bryant Park has made fair progress, but there has been considerable delay on account of the difficulty in obtaining marble, of the labor troubles, and of the extremely cold weather during the winter. About one-third of the masonry and marble work and one-third of the fire-proofing has been completed. The exterior walls on 42d Street are up to the third-floor level, except for a small space in the centre. The Bryant Park wall is near the third-floor level; the 40th Street wall is at the second-floor level, and the centre of the Fifth Avenue front is about one-third up on the first story. The floor-beams in the second story are nearly all in position and the fire-proofing is partially done. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment has before it the revised plans proposed for the stack-work and shelving, and the form of specifications for the heating and ventilation is in the hands of the printer.

READERS' DEPARTMENT.

During the year the number of readers and visitors that visited the two reference library buildings was 184,222, the Astor having received 126,884 and the Lenox 57,338. This is an increase of about 14,549 readers and visitors over the previous year, the increase being 11,770 at the Astor branch and 2,779 at the Lenox. The daily average of readers and visitors was 491, or 408 at the Astor and 83 at the Lenox. The largest in any one month was in December and the smallest in July. Desk applicants (that is, readers filling out slips for books at the delivery desks, exclusive of those using works on the open reference shelves) numbered 14,605 in March, the largest figures shown on the library records; the smallest number of desk applicants, as of readers and visitors, was in July, being 7,308. The total number of desk applicants at the two reference buildings was 128,872, an increase of 18,710, or .169 per cent. over 1902-1903.

The total number of volumes and periodicals issued to desk applicants in both buildings during the twelve months, not including the use made of the open reference shelves, was 524,097, an increase of 85,432, or .194 per cent. over that of the preceding year. Of the 449,342 volumes called for at the Astor, the largest number, 46,299, or about .103 per cent., belonged to English and American literature; 46,044, or .103 per cent., to science; 41,733, or .092 per cent., to American history; 41,531, or .092 per cent., to orientalia; 39,371, or .087 per cent., to applied science.

The total number of volumes given out at the Lenox Building was 74,755, of which 40,898 (or .54 per cent.) related to American genealogy and local history, and 4,863 (or .065 per cent.) to music.

Table I appended shows in detail by months the statistics of readers and the character of the books called for at the Astor and Lenox Buildings. The largest number of volumes issued to desk applicants, in any one month, was 60,167 in March, an average of 4.11 volumes per reader; the smallest number was in September, 28,358 volumes, an average of 3.31 per reader; the largest in any single day was on March 12, when 3,164 volumes were issued to 708 readers.

SHELF DEPARTMENT.

During the fiscal year the number of volumes received, entered on the accession catalogue, and placed on the shelves, was 27,100, of which 11,918 were purchases or duplicate exchanges, and 15,182 were gifts. The number of pamphlets accessioned during the same period was 15,715, of which 2,833 were purchases or duplicate exchanges, and 12,882 gifts.

The number of volumes actually received during the year was 25,012, of which 10,177 were purchases, 13,472 were gifts, 131 by bulletin exchange, and 1,232 by duplicate exchange; the number of pamphlets actually received was 75,458, of which 7,797 were purchases, 36,738 were gifts, 170 by bulletin exchange and 30,753 by duplicate exchange. During the year 3,143 volumes and 12,097 pamphlets, duplicates, were sent out in exchange.

The total number of volumes on the shelves and available for use at the end of June, 1904, was 629,506, and of pamphlets 240,337. These, with the 384,399 volumes in the Circulation Department, give a total of 1,254,242 pieces available for readers.

22,887 volumes and 12,169 pamphlets were reclassified; the subjects of philosophy, theology, history and geography of Asia and Australasia, bibliography, libraries, book arts were completed, and art, general literature, and general philology were begun or continued.

There were bound for the Library 5,781 volumes, including 981 volumes repaired outside for the Library, and not including about 1,000 bound before importation. The Library bindery repaired 1,047 volumes, mounted 134 maps and photographs. 6,326 volumes were tied in manila paper, and 7,176 volumes were lettered and labelled; 2,384 pamphlets were stapled or sewed to hold stiff covers. New shelving was added to the amount of 480½ feet.

CATALOGUE DEPARTMENT.

During the year there were catalogued 34,897 volumes and 31,345 pamphlets, for which purpose were written 137,751 cards; in addition, 30,525 slips were written for, and 153,629 cards received from, the copying machine, making a total of 291,380 cards for adding to the various catalogues. At the end of June, 1904, the index catalogue at the Astor branch contained about 859,132 cards. The separate catalogues contain cards as follows: General (official), 353,255; Documents, 165,319; Serials, 52,930; Reports, 23,940; Railroads, 7,930; Hebrew, 39,920; Oriental, 13,700; Russian, 10,600.

The card catalogues in the two reading rooms at the Lenox Building contain about 258,754 cards (174,580 in the general reading room, 47,722 in the music catalogue, and 36,452 in the catalogue of Genealogies and Local Histories); in addition to the above, the catalogue of Manuscripts contains 23,843 cards, of Maps 22,785 cards; of Americana, 36,073 cards; of Incunabula, 3,185 cards; of Prints, 7,012; various other groups at Lenox bring the total up to 354,758.

There remain unsearched and uncatalogued in the Astor Building about 1,100 single volumes, 380 pamphlet volumes, and 43,000 pamphlets.

At the Lenox Building the cataloguing of theology and music was taken up; there remain to be catalogued here about 5,000 volumes and 5,000 pamphlets in music, theology, and various special groups, such as Hulsius, the Jesuit relations, Shakespeare, etc.

Periodicals indexed number 1,539 titles (1,490 at Astor, 49 at Lenox); in addition, 32 periodicals are indexed for the American Library Association co-operative work. These latter are indexed completely, the indexing of the 1,539 titles noted above being eclectic, and including only articles of first importance. The total number of cards written for the New York Public Library indexing was 18,197 (16,497 at Astor, about 1,700 at Lenox); the total number of printer's slips written for the co-operative indexing was 753, two printed cards being received for each title; the total number of index cards added to the Astor catalogue was 13,771.

PERIODICAL DEPARTMENT.

The total number of readers of current periodicals in the periodical department at the Astor branch during the fiscal year was 27,055, being a daily average of 86. In addition to the journals contained on the open reference shelves 218,033 numbers of current periodicals were called for, being a daily average of 710. The total number of titles of periodicals received at this date is 5,155, of which 3,750 are by purchase, 1,191 are gifts, and 214 exchanges for the BULLETIN. 702 of this total are annual publications received by purchase. In addition to these the Library receives annual publications by gift 6,631, and by bulletin exchange 388. The average of separate numbers of periodicals (excluding annuals) received daily is 327, the total number for the year being 101,272. This includes 74 daily papers, 676 weeklies, 175 semi-monthlies, 1,419 monthlies, 190 bi-monthlies, 608 quarterlies, 73 semi-annuals, and 1,065 of irregular period of publication. In addition, 1,100 document serials (520 foreign and 580 domestic) are included in the report of pieces received in the document department. In exchange for the BULLETIN the Library receives a total of 602 periodicals, an increase of 140 for the year; of these 275 are American annual publications and 113 foreign annuals, and 214 American and foreign periodicals of greater frequency of publication than annually. A table (II) is appended giving the statistics of periodicals received by countries. 885 volumes of old periodicals were added during the year, completing important files.

DOCUMENT DEPARTMENT.

During the year there were received of public documents, 8,289 volumes, 6,913 pamphlets, and 24,259 pieces of serials; there were catalogued 18,904 volumes and 4,914 pamphlets, for which were written 58,090 cards and 7,353 slips for the copying machine.

During the year the department has contributed to the following lists: Works on Constitutions (printed in the BULLETIN, January to April, 1904); list of documentary material on public lands and on marriage and divorce. Revision of the index to United States documentary material relating to diplomatic affairs of the United States, 1828 to 1861, is nearing completion, the letters A-M inclusive, comprising about 30,000 cards, being practically ready for press.

Index cards for a collection of seals representing some 400 cities and states have been made. These notes are temporarily filed in the working catalogue of the department, pending elaboration.

The collected reports of current city documents have not yet been analyzed systematically, although a beginning has been made by indexing finance and police reports and by including the reports of New York and Brooklyn departments in the lists of works relating to those cities printed in the BULLETIN in January to June, 1901, and January to March, 1902.

The calls for service on the department are in the majority of cases answered by proxy at the general desk. Such calls as are made direct are the result of the impossibility of supplying by catalogue the information sought after, and demonstrate the great need of a method other than cataloguing to discover the contents of public documents. Some examples of such requests actually made may be pertinent. They are: the negotiations that led up to British jurisdiction of the Chinese maritime customs, British and French correspondence concerning administration of Egyptian finances, report of the Cape Breton (N. S.) railway litigation (1903 and not yet printed separately), comparative British and American parliamentary procedure in contested election cases; etc. These requests come as a rule from lawyers or from instructors in schools.

The collection of municipal reports covers at present some 750 different cities, divided as follows: American about 500, Canadian 12, South American 6, Australian 7, Indian 4, Mexican 1, European 220. The reports of these cities comprise finance accounts, charters and ordinances, public parks, schools, lighting, water supply, sewerage systems, council minutes, harbor and dock works, general statistics, etc. In conformity with the classification of the library most of these reports are shelved with their respective subjects, only the collection of council minutes and charters and ordinances being kept intact. This collection of charters, council minutes and collected reports comprises at the present time some 7,500 volumes.

The natural increase of this collection averages now about 700 volumes per annum. The effort to fill up the gaps is retarded by the shortage of shelving space in the present quarters, by the fact that it is the scarcer volumes that are lacking from the collection, and by local indifference most of all.

During the year a memorandum index has been begun assembling the reprints of municipal records published in society and other publications, as, for instance, the charters, etc., in the Scottish Burghs Records Society.

More or less difficulty is experienced in keeping the files up to date and in getting the current non-periodical publications. As there is no medium which regularly announces official publications, newspapers, trade magazines, statistical and economic journals are checked up for advices. Memoranda for non-current additions are obtained from the large number of second-hand catalogues, principally European, constantly received by the library, from the lists of accessions in scientific and economic journals and society proceedings, and from regional bibliographies.

ORIENTAL DEPARTMENTS.

The number of volumes in the Jewish section is now about 12,500. The readers average, as in former years, about 25 per day, calling for about 100 volumes. Files of the Jewish Chronicle (London) covering the years 1873-1897, the Jewish World (London) covering 1873-1892, and 21 volumes of Judeo-Spanish periodicals of the last quarter of the 19th century, make important additions to the periodical collection.

The Arabic, Persian and other oriental works now number about 7,800 pieces. Much attention has been paid to securing grammars and dictionaries of oriental dialects, adding recent editions for many of which we had older editions, paying particular attention, however, to adding dialects or languages unrepresented before.

SLAVONIC DEPARTMENT.

The accessions to the Slavonic department amounted to 463 volumes, bringing the total in the department to 6,656 volumes. The number of volumes catalogued and articles indexed was 1,150, of pamphlets catalogued 430, for which 2,300 cards and 430 slips for the schapirograph machine were written. The catalogue of the department now contains 10,600 cards. The number of readers averaged 391 per month, against 281 in 1902-3.

The increase of 110 readers per month is due partly to the growth of the collection, and more particularly to the increase in the number of Russian and Polish periodicals; interest in the Russo-Japanese war also is a probable factor in the increase.

Among the accessions may be mentioned the transactions of the Polish Anthropological Society, 15 volumes, 1878-1895; transactions of the New Russian University at Odessa, 7 volumes, 1903-1904; the Caucasian Almanach (Kavkazski Kalendar), 38 volumes, 1846-1896; a select collection of Polish literature of about 175 volumes; a new Russian daily "Russkiya Vyedomosti," and various Polish and Russian weeklies.

PRINT DEPARTMENT.

The number of prints accessioned during the year was 3,193, bringing the total number of separate prints in the department up to 53,001; unaccessioned material numbers 40,379 pieces. The print room was visited by 1,252 persons for the purpose of consulting prints. The visitors to the picture galleries numbered 30,671, of whom 8,917 examined the prints in the exhibition cases. 36 volumes were sent to the general reading room for the use of readers. 1,164 cards and 288 slips were written, and 1,219 cards schapirographed, making the total of all cards added 9,861.

EXHIBITIONS.

Exhibitions at the Lenox building were as follows: Selections from the Charles Stewart Smith collection of Japanese prints were continued throughout the year, changes being made from time to time; the exhibition of views of New York City under Dutch rule was continued from July to October, when it gave place to a selection from the Whistler Collection; the Arundel Society color prints were continued from July through November; exhibition of the etchings and lithographs of Camille Pissarro was begun on November 23; all these gave way on December 29 to an exhibition of mezzotints loaned by Messrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, John L. Cadwalader, E. G. Kennedy, J. Harsen Purdy, Richard M. Hoe and some from the S. P. Avery Collection, with many books belonging to the Library, the exhibition being continued until April, and a special catalogue being printed for it; on March 16 was opened an exhibition of etchings, lithographs and illustrations by Auguste Raffet in commemoration of the centenary of his birth; it was replaced on April 28 by lithographs by Eugene Isabey in commemoration of the centenary of his birth; on May 9 was opened an exhibition of wood engravings given by the painter-engraver Elbridge Kingsley; on May 25 began an exhibition of wood cuts after Ludwig Richter, and Moritz Ritter von Schwind; on June 22 was opened an exhibition to commemorate the three hundredth anniversary of discoveries made by Samuel de Champlain and the Sieur de Monts on the coast of Maine and the Canadian provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia; it showed an unbroken series of Champlain's printed works and a selection of biographies, portraits, views and maps relating to him, as well as source-material by his contemporaries—Lescarbot, Biard, Sagard, and Le Jeune.

At the Astor building selections from "Der Moderne Stil," "Das Interieur," "Portfolios of Spanish Art" were continued in the swinging cases through November; in December they were replaced by selections from "Rembrandt: 17 of his masterpieces in the Cassel Gallery," and from "Handzeichnungen alter Meister aus der Albertina"; in February change was made to plates from Racinet's "Costume Historique," and in April to Triggs' "Formal Gardens in England." In October a new case was added for exhibition of manuscripts, books, etc., which now contains holograph letters of the Presidents of the United States, some mediæval manuscripts and seals, and some of the Charles Stewart Smith Japanese prints. The maps on the map standard have been changed from time to time, including many relating to the Russo-Japanese war, the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, the Philippines, South American republics, New York State, etc.

BULLETIN.

Volume VII. of the BULLETIN, for 1903, contained 504 pages, a decrease of 20 pages from 1902. Of the check lists printed between July, 1903, and June, 1904, worthy of special note are the list of almanacks, ephemerides, and works relating to the calendar (July and August), works relating to the history of mathematics (December), works relating to political rights, constitutions and constitutional law (January to April), catalogue of the De Bry collection of voyages (May), and the beginning of a list of works relating to naval history (June). The September issue contained a selection of letters by John Bowes, relating to Scotch affairs in 1589-90, thought formerly to have been lost; the November issue had an interesting lot of letters from Sir Charles Blagden to Sir Joseph Banks written between 1776 and 1780, during his service in this country in the surgical department of the British Navy; the January issue contained twenty-four letters from Richard Cobden to Sir Joshua Walmsley, written between 1848 and 1863, and relating largely to current British politics and commercial matters.

EXCHANGES.

During the year there were received by the Library on exchange account 1,232 volumes and 30,753 pamphlets, and there were sent out duplicates in exchange to the number of 3,143 volumes and 12,097 pamphlets. In exchange for the BULLETIN there were received 214 periodicals, 275 American and 113 foreign (total 388) annual publications, and 131 separate volumes and 170 pamphlets.

IMPORTANT PURCHASES AND GIFTS.

The selection of books for purchase for the reference department during the year has been made in accordance with the general principles which have guided such selections for the last five years. The annual appropriation for purchases was $25,000, of which one-half was expended for current periodicals and transactions of Societies, adding about 9,280 volumes to the library. The other purchases have been mainly for the departments of history, especially American history, biography, sociology and economics, science, technology, archæology, travels, philosophy; and Slavonic literature, Irish history and literature, and recent poetry and the drama have also received considerable additions. The income of the Proudfit fund has been applied to purchases for the section of naval history, which is becoming an important one. Very few purchases are made for the department of fiction, which, however, has been considerably added to by gifts. Very few purchases are made for the department of natural history, including botany and zoology, these subjects being left to Columbia University, as medicine is left to the library of the Academy of Medicine, law to the libraries of the Law Institute and of the Association of the Bar, and theology to the library of the Union Theological Seminary. But important new books on hygiene, constitutional law, and ecclesiastical history are obtained as they appear.

Mr. Avery, Mr. Cadwalader, Mrs. Henry Draper, Mr. Archer M. Huntington, Mr. Rives, Mr. Russell, Mr. Schuyler, Miss L. L. Schuyler, and Mrs. Howard Townsend have continued their gifts as in former years. Judge O'Brien gave important additions to the works relating to Irish history and literature. Miss Julia S. Bryant gave two oil paintings, one a portrait of William Cullen Bryant, the other a Catskill landscape with portrait figures of William Cullen Bryant and Thomas Cole, both painted by Asher Brown Durand about 1840. The George William Curtis Memorial Association presented on December 7 a bronze bust of George William Curtis, by J. Q. A. Ward; and Mr. Simon Sterne gave a bronze bust of the late Simon Sterne, executed by Victor Brenner. From the Misses Jones was received a collection of engravings by Alfred Jones, from Elbridge Kingsley the Lepha N. Clarke collection of wood engravings by Elbridge Kingsley, from Thomas D. Sugden a collection of over 800 American wood engravings. By bequest from the late Isaac Myer the library received the whole of his library, amounting to 1,817 volumes and 375 pamphlets, relating mainly to Egyptian and Hebrew mysticism, the Kabbala, scarabs, and related subjects, the remainder being a representative selection of general literature in good editions and well bound.

The American Agriculturist, the Methodist Library through the Rev. Dr. J. C. Thomas, Messrs. H. V. & H. W. Poor, the Evening Post, the Municipal Journal, Publishers' Weekly, Christian Herald, Churchman, Literary Digest, and Cooper Union have continued their gifts of periodicals, reports, etc.

CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT.

At the end of a third year since the execution of the contract with the City relative to the gift of Andrew Carnegie, Esquire, the City has acquired fifteen sites in the Borough of Manhattan, three sites in the Borough of The Bronx, and four sites in the Borough of Richmond, making a total of twenty-two sites in all, or almost one-half of the total number of sites to be procured.

Table III appended hereto shows the present condition of the work, the details of acquisition, etc. In addition, the City has approved of eleven general localities in which additional sites are to be procured, eight of which are in the Borough of Manhattan, two in the Borough of The Bronx, and one in the Borough of Richmond.

At this date (July 1) the three following buildings, each providing a new branch library, are completed and nearly ready to be opened, namely:

1. No. 328 East 67th Street.
2. Corner of 140th Street and Alexander Avenue.
3. Port Richmond, Staten Island.

These will be opened as soon as the City provides money for the purchase of books, which will probably be not much before the end of the calendar year.

Other buildings are nearly completed, and still others are under way, as shown by Table III.

Of these buildings the following are nearly finished:

1. 190-192 Amsterdam Avenue.
2. 112-114 East 96th Street.
3. 135th Street near Lenox Avenue.
4. 61-63 Rivington Street.
5. 331-333 East 10th Street.
6. Washington Avenue and 176th Street.
7. Tottenville, Staten Island.

Plans are drawn and building operations are about to begin on the following sites:

1. 209-211 West 23d Street.
2. 66-68 LeRoy Street.
3. 1465-1467 Avenue A.
4. The enlarged and remodelled building at 172 East 110th Street.
5. St. George, Staten Island.
6. Kingsbridge.

The plans for the rest of the buildings will be ready as soon as title can be taken by the City in the following locations:

1. 444-446 Amsterdam Avenue.
2. 124 East 59th Street; 121-127 East 58th Street.
3. 228-230 East 23d Street.
4. Stapleton, Staten Island.

Floor plans and front elevations of the following new buildings accompany this report: the Tompkins Square Branch, at 331 East 10th Street, now located at the corner of Avenue C and 7th Street; the new branch at 328 East 67th Street, near First Avenue; the Riverside branch, 190

Amsterdam Avenue, between 68th and 69th Streets; the branch at 222 East 125th Street, east of Third Avenue; the new Mott Haven branch, north-west corner of 140th Street and Alexander Avenue; the new branch at Port Richmond, Staten Island, corner of Bennett Street and Heberton Avenue. Floor plans and front elevation of the Chatham Square branch were printed in the BULLETIN, October, 1902.

The year just passed has been marked by the consolidation with the New York Public Library on January 1, 1904, of two formerly independent library organizations, "The Harlem Free Library," and "The Tottenville Free Library." The former brought with it its building on West 123d Street with 24,333 volumes, and the latter 3,375 volumes. On the same date the Webster Free Library, heretofore maintained by the East Side Settlement, at the foot of East 76th Street, and the University Settlement Library at Rivington and Eldridge Streets, turned over to us 12,000 and 5,479 volumes respectively, and became branches of the New York Public Library. In all these cases the staffs were taken over bodily into our own, and, with a few changes necessary for uniformity, the work of all four libraries has gone on with no interruption. The Department now includes twenty-two branch libraries, of which eleven occupy their own buildings (three erected with the Carnegie fund), eight are in rented quarters, and three have quarters rent free, namely, the branch in the University Settlement Building, the East 76th Street Branch (formerly the Webster Free Library) in the East Side Settlement, and the Library for the Blind in the parish house of St. Agnes Chapel. For four of these, Carnegie buildings are in course of erection; and new buildings are needed for all that have no homes of their own.

Two Carnegie buildings have been opened during the year, the Chatham Square Branch, at 33 East Broadway, on November 2, 1903, and the 125th Street Branch, at 224 East 125th Street, on March 7, 1904. In both cases no work of organization was necessary, the buildings serving as new quarters for already-existing branches. Formal opening exercises were held for both. At Chatham Square, President Cantor of the Borough of Manhattan presided, and addresses were made on behalf of the City by the presiding officer, and on behalf of the library by Hon. Samuel Greenbaum, of the Board of Trustees, and by Arthur E. Bostwick, Chief of the Circulation Department. At 125th Street, the Hon. Edward M. Grout, Comptroller of the City, was to have presided, but was prevented, and his place was taken by Lewis Cass Ledyard, Esquire, who made an address on behalf of the Board of Trustees.

The corner-stone of the new Tremont branch, now in course of erection at Washington Avenue and 176th Street, Borough of The Bronx, was formally laid on January 21st, 1904, the first ceremony of the kind at any of the branch library buildings. Addresses were made by Hon. George L. Rives of the Board of Trustees, representing the library, and by Rev. F. B. Makepeace representing the local committee. The corner-stone was laid by Mr. Rives, taking the place of Hon. Louis F. Haffen, President of the Borough of The Bronx, who was unable to be present.

Apprentices have been admitted twice during the year. The entrance examination for the regular class September 16, 1903, was tried by 35 persons, of whom 25 were admitted. Of these 20 continued through the year and 18 passed the examination admitting them to the eligible list for Class D. Besides class instruction and practical work in the branches this class heard lectures from 17 different members of the library staff and from five outsiders. On March 1, in order to meet probable demands for more assistants during the year, 25 apprentices were admitted without formal examination, of whom 14 have continued until the present time. Of these eight have passed the examination for Class D with the exception of Library Economy.

The instructor of apprentices has also devoted some time to members of the regular staff of the Department, conducting classes in general topics of information, with excellent results.

On May 25 and 26, examinations to determine eligibility to promotion were held in all grades, with the following results:

CANDIDATES.	PLACED ON ELIGIBLE LIST.
B to A 10	5
C to B 38 (including 15 outsiders).....	7
D to C 32	6
E to D 54 (including 20 apprentices and one outsider).....	39

The work of the department cataloguers during the year has been increased by necessary alterations in shelf-lists, catalogues, and book-numbers at the recently consolidated branches. The following table exhibits the regular work of the cataloguing force, including a head-cataloguer and five assistants.

- 19,620 cards written for the union catalogue.
- 15,091 books entered in the union catalogue and shelf-list.
- 88,401 cards and slips filed.
- 8,780 shelf-list cards written for branches.
- 2,718 Library of Congress cards filed in union catalogue.
- 9,817 Library of Congress cards filed in branches.
- 2,221 cards written for the Aguilar union index.

- 8,579 reserve notices sent to branches.
- 3,255 cards written for Chatham Square catalogue.
- 878 books accessioned for Chatham Square.
- 8,996 cards written for Harlem branch catalogue.
- 1,564 cards written for Sixty-seventh Street catalogue.
- 523 books accessioned for Sixty-seventh Street.
- 30,391 Aguilar books entered in union catalogue.
- 1,275 cards written for Mott Haven catalogue.
- 361 shelf-list cards written for Mott Haven.
- 426 books accessioned for Mott Haven.
- 2,633 shelf-list entries copied.
- 29,328 catalogue cards written in branches.

The additional work noted above has included the following:

- 11,059 cards written for union catalogue.
- 6,454 Webster books entered in union shelf-list.
- 3,083 Webster entries in Webster shelf-list.
- 3,456 Webster numbers changed on books.
- 4,129 Rivington books entered in union catalogue.
- 370 Rivington shelf-list cards written.
- 4,634 Rivington numbers changed on books.
- 2,069 Rivington catalogue cards written.
- 10,321 Harlem Library books entered in union shelf-list.
- 8,634 Harlem Library shelf-list cards written.
- 13,581 Harlem Library numbers changed in catalogue.
- 2,819 Harlem Library numbers changed on books.
- 1,793 Tottenville books entered in union catalogue.
- 110 Tottenville shelf-list cards written.
- 2,676 Tottenville numbers changed on books.
- 1,989 books classified for Library for the Blind.

In doing this extra work, which has been undertaken and finished since January 12, 1904, the regular force has been aided by six additional assistants, whose employment for six months was authorized for this purpose by the Circulation Committee.

A plan to extend the work of the Department with the Public Schools has been adopted and entered upon. The schools of the city have been divided into groups, and each group has been assigned to the nearest branch of the library, where one assistant has been given special charge of the relations between the library and the schools of that particular group. In each school has been placed, by special permission of the Board of Education, a library bulletin board, bearing the name of the nearest branch and such other information regarding the library as may be of value to both teachers and pupils. This work has been begun in a limited number of groups, but it is hoped that it may be extended over the city in the near future. In planning it and carrying it out we have had the hearty co-operation of the City Superintendent of School Libraries. Such of the work as has heretofore been carried out through travelling libraries will continue to be in charge of the Travelling Library Division, working in harmony with the new plan. The removal of the Travelling Library office to more adequate quarters in the new Riverside Branch on Amsterdam Avenue, which is expected to take place this autumn, will give us the opportunity to equip there a special reception room for teachers, including a model school library, of which it is to be hoped we may be able to print an annotated catalogue for teachers' use, replacing the present typewritten lists. It is expected that systematic attention will be given to work with reference books, that books will be supplied, wherever possible, for the personal reading of teachers in connection with their school work, and that every effort will be made to bring the schools and the branch libraries into close and cordial relationship.

The work of supplying books to schools, although an important part of the work of the Travelling Library Division, is by no means its only work. The extent and variety of its interests may be appreciated by glancing over the statistical table embodying a list of its distributing centres, which now number 358, against 215 for last year—a remarkable increase. An important part of the Travelling Library work will always be the distribution of books in parts of the city that are not populated thickly enough to warrant the establishment therein of regular branch libraries. Such work is now being done at City Island and Bedford Park, in the Borough of the Bronx, and at Huguenot Park in the Borough of Richmond. Another valuable branch of this work is that devoted to Home Libraries, which we are now operating to the number of 93.

The unusual loss from open shelves reported last year has led to attempts to control or limit it. These have included the partial closing of the shelves to the public at two branches (the George Bruce and the Otten-dorfer), which had not originally been constructed for free access, the use of a perforating stamp in marking books, and the sending of a circular to booksellers throughout the city cautioning them to use particular care in the purchase of lots of second-hand books. An attempt has also been made to exercise special vigilance in the detection of theft, and several thieves have been caught and punished. In spite of these efforts, the loss this year is slightly larger than it was last year, although the rate of increase of loss from year to year has lessened. The net loss reported in 1901/2 was 3,480; in 1902/3 it was 5,496; and in 1903/4 the same branches reported a net loss of 5,925—an increase of nearly eight per cent. In addition to this there was a loss for the year of 631 volumes from the University Settlement Library (including six months' loss before consolidation). The Harlem Library and the Webster Free Library took an inventory this year for the first time in a considerable period; in the case of the former about 15 years. They report losses of 3,353 and 287 respectively, which obviously should not be included in the loss account of the past year.

Of the two branches where the shelves were partially closed on February 1, the Ottendorfer Branch reports a loss of 382, against 508 last year, and the George Bruce Branch a loss of 587, against 361 last year. It should be remembered that the closing was for less than half of the year reported on, so that conclusions can scarcely be drawn from these figures. A case worth noting is that of the St. Agnes Branch, where the number of books recovered during the year (511) exceeds the number lost (477), so that there is an actual gain for the year. In another library (125th Street) the number recovered (398) is nearly four-fifths of the gross loss (533).

The statistical reports given herewith include records of the Harlem Library, the Webster Free Library, the University Settlement Library, and the Tottenville Free Library only since consolidation; that is, since January 1, 1904. The full year's work of the Department with its 22 branches, as it stands at present, is greater than this by the work done by these libraries during the six months of our library year previous to consolidation. The number of books added would thus be increased by 1,697 and the circulation by 159,722, making the corresponding totals 26,227 volumes added, and home circulation 3,291,374. The relative degree of accuracy in the different tables is the same as that noted in the last report, to which the reader is referred for information on this point.

The monthly meetings of the Library Staff have continued through the year, and have been well attended. Some interesting papers have been read, and the Librarians and Assistants from the Reference and Circulation Departments have thus become better acquainted with each other and with each other's work.

I take great pleasure in saying that in each department the members of the staff have done good work throughout the year—working harmoniously together for the public good.

Very respectfully,

J. S. BILLINGS,

Director

There was also an exhibition at the 125TH STREET BRANCH of Japanese prints of the Russo-Japanese war.

Many of these lists were prepared in connection with the Free Lectures of the Board of Education, and relate to the lectures delivered in the neighborhood of the branches at which the lists were displayed.

At the meeting of the trustees of the library, held on Wednesday, November 9, 1904, the following minute was unanimously adopted:

"The trustees of the New York Public Library have learned with deep regret of the death of Samuel P. Avery. Mr. Avery had been for many years a trustee of the Lenox Library, and became an original trustee of the Public Library upon the consolidation, in 1895, remaining such until his death.

"He was at all times a most zealous and useful member of the Board, who rendered conspicuous service from time to time during the negotiations for consolidation, and afterward upon the Executive Committee and the Art Committee.

"He was possessed of a truly liberal and public spirit. Prior to the consolidation he had established an architectural library at Columbia University, and in the same spirit was not only liberal in gifts of books to the Public Library, but in May, 1900, in order that a department of prints should be at once established on a permanent footing, presented to the library his entire collection of etchings, lithographs and photographs, numbering in all 17,557 pieces. This proved to be a most complete and valuable collection, representing the labor of his life, and tended at once to place the print collection of the Public Library, as far as relates to modern work, upon a firm foundation.

"In private life, and in his daily intercourse, Mr. Avery was considerate and attractive, and the institution has lost by his death a munificent and cultivated benefactor and a valuable associate."

The following diary kept by an unidentified soldier during the campaign around New York and the retreat through New Jersey in 1776 is printed from the original manuscript in the library. It is written on leaves 9 to 16 of a gathering about four inches wide by six and one-half long; leaves 1-7 are blank or serve for memoranda of expenses, sums loaned, etc.; 8 is missing.

M^r: Hamilton Submitted to the Committee a Memorial on the Subject of City Defenses which was Approved and signed by the Members of the Committee

The subject of the large quantity of tobacco now in the City and its preponderance over the receipts of other produce was discussed by the Committee but no conclusion arrived at

M^r: Gage submitted a communication from Genl Ledbetter informing the Committee that the Engineers office was in want of Hawsers Cordage and rope for the use of Steamers Barges &c. & stating that owing to the scarcity of these articles it was difficult to Keep the Wants of the office supplied & stating that a large hawser was immediately wanted & requesting that one be purchased. Whereupon M^r: Gage was authorized to take charge of this Matter and make purchases. At an informal meeting of the Committee and other Citizens of Mobile Genl Rains C. S. A. explained his invention of submarine bomb. He also exhibited one of his fuse tubes & explained its composition and action. It appeared to the Committee that the invention might be of great and decisive influence in the defence of Mobile & the Chairman was directed to confer with the Engineer Department on the subject and tender its aid in having several batteries of these torpedoes prepared.

WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 3. 1862

The Committee Met to day

At the instance of D^r: Woodcock The following Resolution was offered and adopted

In view of the fact that Small Pox is now prevailing in the City—Be it Resolved by this Committee that the chairman be requested to request the Mayor Alderman and Common Council to appoint a Vaccine Physician who shall be instructed to vaccinate as soon as possible all the poor of the City and that same Chairman be requested by this Committee to suggest to the Mayor Aldermen & Council that the Sanitary interests of this City & County render it important to have the Pest House located at some other place instead of the Graveyard and as remote as possible from settlements.

Be it further resolved that the Secretary of this Committee be instructed to address Genl Forney on the importance of having the army under his command speedily vaccinated

THURSDAY DECEMBER 4th 1862

The Committee met to day

Present the Chairman and Mes^{rs}: Gage and Carter

M^r: Hamilton submitted to the Committee a letter to the Mayor of the City enclosing copy of Resolutions adopted at last meeting—which was approved.

Also letter to Genl C. J. McRae of the iron works at Selma in relation to the cost of shells for Marine torpedoes &c. which was also approved.

M^r Gage reported that he had completed the Contract for the Charter of the Steamer Dorrance on the terms mentioned in the minutes of a previous meeting but in view of the fact that the Dorrance is not suitable for the work at the Entrance of the harbor, he had arranged with the Quarter Masters Department to exchange her for the Steamer Dick Keys, the Government to pay to the Keys in addition the sum of Sixty five Dollars per day while she is so employed at the Entrance of the harbor.

D^r Carter mentioned a conversation with Genl Ledbetter suggesting the confusion that might arise if the Committee were to pay bills for the Engineers Dept. Thereupon the chairman and M^r Gage were requested to confer with Genl L. and arrange the Matter. These Gentlemen on their return stated it had been arranged that when called upon to purchase the committee would do so, and send in their bills approved to Engineers Dept for paymt, who would take the requisite vouchers—And if needed the Committee would advance Money to the Dept upon the understanding their advances will be refunded out of the first Moneys received by the Dept

M^r Wingard Exhibited & explained to the Committee the drawings of an invention of a repeating cannon and it was determined by the Committee to make inquiry as to the facilities to be found in Mobile for its construction

FRIDAY DEC 5th 1862

Committee met to day

Present the Chairman and Mess Goodman Gage & Carter

On the Application of M^r Wingard inventor of a gun boat for means to perfect his plans and present them to the Government at Richmond, the committee determined they had no authority to advance money for such a purpose, but directed the Chairman to give him a letter of introduction and recommendation to the Governor of the state.

In pursuance of the Application to the Committee from the Engineers Department to procure for them Rope cordage &c M^r Gage reported that he had purchased a hawser for $1445.65 and also two other lines—one for $183.75 & drayage, and the other, cost not yet ascertained and the Chairman was directed to ask the Governor to make inquiries at Montgomery for rope there.

M^r Hamilton reported a letter from M^r Langdon, Representative in the Legislature from Mobile stating that the act to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors forwarded to him by direction of the Committee had not been introduced for want of time.

D^r Carter was directed to make inquiry whether the cannon with the reaming out of which he was heretofore charged could be reamed out at Selma.

The following Resolution was adopted “Resolved—That this Committee have learned with regret that a measure is before the Legislature looking to material alterations in the offices of Quartermaster and Adjutant General of the State. They are thoroughly convinced that any change is likely to be of injury rather than good—The arrangements now existing have worked well and a system has been formed under the care of Experienced Men which would be injuriously affected by any change. The Chairman is directed in concert with the President of the General Committee to take steps to remonstrate against any change that will put in jeopardy interests so important.

MONDAY DEC 8th 1862

Committee met to day.

Present the Chairman, Mess Gage Carter and Wilson

Mr. Hamilton submitted a letter from the Governor Enclosing copies of his letters to the Secretaries of War and Navy accompanied the Memorial forwarded by the committee in relation to procuring large guns.

Dr. Carter reported that he had been informed by Mess Parkinson & Co with whom he had contracted for a gun carriage, as heretofore directed that they had not the necessary iron and would have to apply for it to the Government: that thereupon the Estimate for the requisite quantity of iron was submitted to Genl Forney, through Genl Ledbetter with the request that he would issue an order for its being furnished—but that General Forney had declined to do so saying he deemed this a suitable matter for the action of the Committee on behalf of the State.

Mr. Gage reported that he was proceeding in procuring ballast for the obstructions of the Entrance of the harbor &c.

Some conversation was had in relation to the repeating cannon invented by Mr. Wingard It being found that the Means Materials for making one of them could not be had in Mobile the Committee authorized Mr. Wingard to make inquiries in that regard at Montgomery & other places on his way to Richmond and if he found that he could Contract with some responsible parties for making one of them, the Committee would afford such pecuniary assistance as may be needed for the purpose.

Present the Chairman, and Mess^{rs} Gage Carter and Goodman

M^r Hamilton laid before the Committee a communication from the Governor on the subject of publishing a Proclamation by him in relation to cargo & also of foreign imports, & reported that he had made arrangements for its publication.

M^r Hamilton also submitted a communication from Genl Rains, to the effect that he had procured to be shipped Nine Submarine Mortar Shells complete in Everything except the loading and reported that he had laid this Communication before Genl Ledbetter, and requested him to write immediately for 50 more of the shells— and also 500 primers which was done.

By invitation of Col. E. H. Angomar the Committee accompanied him to Examine his Projectile invention

WEDNESDAY JANUARY 14. 1863.

The Committee met to day

Present the Chairman, and Messrs Goodman Gage and Carter.

M^r Hamilton reported that as instructed at a previous meeting he had laid before Admiral Buchanan the inventions of D^r Reed and M^r Scott for a Ram and torpedoes and that the Admiral had subsequently informed him that he had written fully to the Governor on the subject of D^r Reeds plan and that as to the other he had no means of applying it and that for either of them a vessel perfectly invulnerable and of great speed was required for its application—which he had no means of obtaining— And further that the best that could be done under the circumstances was to submit the plans to the Naval Engineer at Richmond with the request that if Practicable the means for applying them be afforded.

Upon further consultation among the Committee it was determined that the most effective plan which could be pursued under the circumstances here was to build iron clad Batteries, that two of them were already in process of construction and nearly completed. That as Admiral Buchanan had informed the Chairman of the Committee that he had applied to the Naval authorities at Richmond for permission to have constructed a third Battery for which sufficient iron was already here, it be recommended, to Governor Shorter, in the Event Admiral Buchanan does not obtain the required permission from Richmond, to have constructed at once—without any delay one iron clad floating Battery

THURSDAY JANUARY 15th 1863

The Committee met to day

Present the Chairman and Messrs Gage and Goodman & Carter

A communication was received from Genl Leadbetter, stating that the Engineers Dept was greatly in need of funds in advance of requisitions already forwarded and requesting the Committee to transfer to him the sum of $50,000—to be returned on the arrival of funds from Virginia which will probably be about the 1st February.

Whereupon it being ascertained that the Treasurer has in hand about $39,000 it was ordered that the Chairman give to Genl Leadbetter a draft for $35,000 and that he apply at once to Governor Shorter to place at the disposal of the Committee more funds.

MONDAY JANUARY 19th 1863

Mr Hamilton laid before the Committee a communication from Lt Col Rains in reply to his letter of a former date in relation to fuses for Rains submarine Torpedoes—and reported that he had the communication before Genl Ledbetter who suggested to him defects in these fuses, and explained several of them in his presence Genl L. suggested to the Chairman to write to Lt Col Rains pointing out these defects, stating that he had already done so himself but that he desired that he as Chairman of the Committee should also do so. Mr H. stated that he had accordingly written to Col Rains on the subject and submitted the letter to the Committee.

Mr Hamilton also reported a communication from Genl Goldthwaite adjt. and Insp^r Genl of the State in reply to one from him in relation to obtaining a battery for an artillery company to be organized in Mobile for local defence.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 27. 1863.

Com^e met.

Mr Wilson made an informal report on the subject of water heretofore referred to him.

On motion, it was directed, that Mr Wilson communicate to the City Corporation the motion of the Com^e of Safety, on the subject of a supply of water, and urge upon the Corporation the necessity of immediately putting all the public cisterns in order, and also of seeing that all private cisterns be immediately seen to.

It was further resolved that, if need be, the action of the Military power be invoked to have the City water works put in order.

FRIDAY JANUARY 30. 1863.

The Committee met to day

Present the Chairman, and Mess Gage Wilson and Carter.

Mr Hamilton laid before the Committee a communication from Genl Rains to the effect that upon application to Col Gorgas Chief of Ordnance, he had been informed by him he had not the iron required for the submarine Shells &c and that he (Genl R.) had some sensitive tubes prepared which he would send to Genl Ledbetter by first safe means.

Also another letter from the Office of the Adjutant General of the State asking for the names of suitable persons to be appointed agents for the impressment of Negroes in Mobile County to work on the defences and the Chairman was instructed to telegraph that for the want of time to secure the services of suitable persons, the Committee suggest that blank commissions be sent to be filled when suitable persons are found.

Mr. Wilson reported that as instructed at a previous meeting he had addressed a communication to the Mayor and Boards of Aldermen and Common Council on the subject of the public and private cisterns in the City and also the reservoir attached to the Water Works, and had handed the same to the Mayor with the request that he would lay the same before the Boards.

MONDAY FEBRUARY 2 1863.

The Committee met to day.

A dispatch was received from Genl Goldthwaite addressed to the Chairman, as follows—"Governor absent, no commissions signed, select two persons, let them make assessment of slaves & send their names."

To which the Chairman replied as follows—"Telegram just received Appoint James T. Shelton, John P. Tisdall".

TUESDAY FEBRUARY 3. 1863.

The Committee met to day

Mr. Hamilton reported that the enrolling officers appointed by the Chief of Police had made their reports showing about 2500 names.

The Chief of Police had also furnished lists of the men attached to the Fire and Police Departments.

Mr. Hamilton presented the Bill left by the Chief of Police for the services of the enrolling officers amounting to $, action upon which was deferred till the meeting of the General Committee.

Mr. Gage reported that he had received a communication from the Quartermaster Department in relation to the Steamer Bagaley and Dick Keyes, and and [sic] the conflicting claims of the Engineer and Quarter Master Department He was desired to see Genl Leadbetter on the subject.

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 6. 1863.

The Committee met to day.

A communication was received from Genl Leadbetter in charge of Engineer Department, requesting the Committee to transfer to him the sum of $15000 being the remainder of a loan of $50000 heretofore asked of his Department and $35000 which had been received—and the Chairman was directed to draw on the Treasurer for the amount and hand the same over to Genl Leadbetter which was accordingly done.

WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 12, 1863.

The Committee met to day.

A communication from L. J. Fleming Esq. superintendant of the M. & O. R.R. Co, was received, in which he propounded the following inquiries heard in an interview he had had with Genl Buckner, on the subject. viz. 1—Is there any distress or suffering in the City or surrounding Country for the want of Corn & Provisions ? 2. Can the city of Mobile and the surrounding country in Alabama be supplied from the country bordering on the Alabama River ? 3. Will the country along the Mobile and Ohio and other Railroads in Mississippi furnish a supply for the army and people of that state and for the city of Mobile and surrounding country ?

Which interrogations being considered by the Committee the Chairman was directed to answer to the first of them affirmatively to the second in the negative and to the third that the Committee was not so well supplied with information as to the supply in Mississippi but that all the reports which had reached them unite in representing the supply as very great, much of it liable to perish for want of a market and much liable to destruction by the Enemy. Which the Chairman proceeded to do fully and at length.

Upon further discussion of this subject it was resolved by the Committee that Colonels L. M. H. Walker and John Forsythe be requested to wait upon Genl. Pemberton at his headquarters, and by a full explanation of the wants of the community and its means for supplying itself with provisions, endeavour to obtain from him the rescinding of his order in relation to the transportation of corn &c from Mississippi.

Mr Gage reported that he had by direction of Genl Leadbetter discharged the Steamer Planter, heretofore chartered at $150 per day, the discharge to take effect from to-day and had in her place chartered the C. W. Dorrance at $125 per day.

FRIDAY FEBRUARY 13th 1863

The Committee met to day

Mr Hamilton submitted two letters from Governor Shorter one enclosing a communication from Lieut Pickens, in the name of the Governor of Mississippi inviting the Governor to send a messenger to Jackson to examine into a new method of preparing & exploding torpedoes. Mr Hamilton was directed to lay the letter before Genl Buckner.

The other was in relation to the appointment of officers to organize the citizens for local defence. The committee expressed an anxious desire to aid in any Military organization, but states the appointment of officers before hand and prior to the organization of companies and battalions does not meet the plan proposed in his proclamation and therefore declines to act as suggested. The Committee do not coincide with the views expressed by the Governor and directed the Chairman to continue his correspondence with the Governor on this subject.

The Bill presented by the Tribune Newspaper for publishing the Mayors card was referred to Dr Carter with instructions to inquire into and report the facts and what ought to be done in relation thereto.

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 14th 1863.

The Committee met to day

D^r Carter to whom was referred the Bill presented by the Tribune Newspaper for publishing the Mayors card with instructions to inquire into the facts &c. reported that he had called at the office of the Tribune in relation to the matter, and had been then informed that though the present amount of the Bill was then considered in all respects, proper & correct, they were willing to accept $150 in full payment of it— He also reported that he had also called for and obtained the Bill of the Register & Advertiser for publishing the same card which amounted to $72 though this Newspaper had not published it for so long a time as the Tribune— After some discussion in which the Committee expressed doubts as to its authority to pay these Bills it was ordered that they be referred back to the General Committee for their action in the premises.

MONDAY FEBRY 15 1863.

The Committee met to-day

M^r Hamilton reported that in obedience to the instructions of the General Committee he had caused to be paid over to M^r E. H. Angamor the further sum of $10,000.

MONDAY FEBRUARY 23. 1863.

The Committee met to-day

The order heretofore issued by General Buckner directing the seizure of Beef and provisions and fixing the price of beef at 20c per pound on foot having been the subject of discussion in the Committee during the previous week and the committee being convinced of the injurious effect said order would have upon the supply of these articles in the Market, M^r Hamilton and M^r Wilson were directed to confer with the Military authorities with a view of obtaining its modification or rescission— And to day M^r Hamilton reported to the Committee that as the result of their interviews with Genl Mackall on the subject, he (Genl M) informed him, on Saturday last, that same order had been rescinded. Whereupon M^r Hamilton was requested to see Genl Buckner and request that publication of the rescission of the order be made for the information of shippers of the articles therein embraced and to counteract the evils produced from the publication of the order.

M^r Gage reported that he had audited and approved the account of Capt Wells for the charter of the Steamer Planter at $150 per day from the 20th November 1862 to the 12th February 1863.

M^r T. A. Hamilton, Secretary of the Mobile Supply Association, submitted for the consideration of the Committee a Memorial prepared by him to Governor Shorter, requesting the suspension of the Extortion Act Whereupon the memorial being read and considered by the Committee it was Resolved, that this Committee approve the views therein express [sic] and recommend it to the favorable consideration of his Excellency the Governor.

It was further reported by Mr. Hamilton that the Tribune Newspaper had accepted the $100 appropriated by the Genl Com^{tee} in full payment of the bill presented for publication of the Mayor card, and that the Advertiser & Reg^r had likewise accepted the $50 appropriated to it.

FEBRUARY 28th 1863.

The Committee met to day

Genl Leadbetter having applied to the Committee for an advance of $50,000, and the Committee not having that amount of funds in hand, the Chairman was instructed to give him an order on the Treasurer for $25,000—and to apply to the Governor to place at the disposal of the Committee more funds, which was accordingly done.

Mr. Hamilton reported a communication from the Governor in relation to the information he was said to have given General Johnstone as to the abundance of corn in Alabama for the use of the citizens explaining that his remarks to Genl. J. were general and had no reference to the wants of Mobile and desiring that this letter be submitted to Genl Buckner and that such steps be taken as were necessary for the good of the City

MARCH 5th 1863

The Committee met to day

Mr. Hamilton reported that as instructed at a previous meeting he had applied to the Governor for more funds and in reply had received from him a draft for $50,000 which was paid over to the Treasurer and his receipt in duplicate taken therefor

The subject of constructing Guns after the plan of Mr. Wingard having been referred by the General Committee to this Committee Mr. Hamilton was directed to confer with the military authorities on the subject and reported that he had done so and had received a communication from Major Trueheart Chief of Artillery upon the Staff of General Mackall recommending the construction of one of these guns. Whereupon the Committee authorized Mr. Wingard to proceed and see about constructing one of these guns with the understanding that if the gun when completed stands such tests as the military authorities may subject it to they will construct four or five others

The subject of the orders of Genl Pemberton in relation to supplies having been frequently discussed by the Committee, the Chairman of this Committee together with the Chairman of the General Committee were requested to wait on General Buckner and suggest to him the propriety of his visiting General Pemberton in person and conferring with him on the subject: and Mr Hamilton reported that General Buckner had consented to do so and thereupon the Committee authorized and requested Mr C. C. Langdon and Judge Brown to accompany General Buckner on behalf of the Citizens of Mobile.

Upon application from the Engineer Department the Treasurer was directed to pay over to the order of Genl Leadbetter the sum of $25000 being balance of the loan of $50000 requested by him a few days since.

MONDAY MARCH 9th 1863

The Committee met to day

The proposals of Mr Wingard for constructing one of his Mounted Rifle guns was submitted to the Committee which were accepted, and Mr Hamilton directed to prepare a contract for the construction of one gun upon the terms proposed by him and also four others provided the subsequent ones do not exceed in cost $5000 each

MOBILE MARCH 10th 1863

The Committee met to day

Mr Hamilton reported the form of a contract for the construction of the Wingard gun which was submitted to the Committee and approved by them and delivered to Mr Wingard for Execution.

MOBILE MARCH 11th 1863

The Committee met to day

Mr C. C. Langdon who with Judge Brown had been requested by the Committee to accompany Genl Buckner on a visit to Genl Pemberton to confer with that officer on the subject of food supply for the army & citizens of Mobile, was in attendance and reported that they had had several interviews with Genl Pemberton on the subject of their mission. That they found him wholly disinclined to relax to any Extent whatever the prohibition Established by him of the Exportation from the State of Mississippi of provisions and supplies- alleging as a reason that all of these within his department are absolutely needed for the army under his command,

Mr Langdon further reported that Genl Pemberton announced to them that from the information received by him from his agents for the collection of supplies his mind was fully made up on the subject and that he was not inclined to go beyond the statements of these agents for information thus shutting the door against any further discussion or explanation from Judge Brown & himself on the subject.

MARCH 12th 1863.

The Committee met to day

M^r. Hamilton reported that he had closed the contract with M^r. Wingard and Park & Lyons for the construction of the Wingard guns on the terms heretofore indicated and that $3000 under the contract had been paid over to these parties.

M^r. Hamilton further reported that he had communicated to the Governor the result of the Mission of Judge Brown and M^r. Langdon and had also sent him a copy of the Contract with M^r. Wingard and Park & Lyons.

M^r. Hamilton further reported that upon the signature of Genl Leadbetter of the Engineer Department the further sum of $25000 Dollars had been paid over to him.

MARCH 23, 1863.

The Committee met to day

M^r. Hamilton reported a communication from the Governor in reply to one from him in which he announced the result of the application to General Pemberton noticed in a former Minutes and the completion of a contract for the Wingard gun enclosing a copy of the contract. The Governor in this communication approved the action of the Committee in the matter of the contract for the Wingard gun

M^r. Hamilton also reported that he had applied to the Governor for more funds.

At the suggestion of the Committee M^r. Hamilton had prepared a communication to Hon. E. S. Dargan Representative from the district in Congress on the subject of provisions &c in Mobile, and the necessity of urging the appropriation for the defences of the City—which was affirmed by the Committee and ordered forwarded.

MARCH 25th 1863.

The Committee met to day

M^r. Hamilton reported a communication from the Governor in answer to his last application for funds to the effect that owing to the large demands upon the State Treasury and the limited Amount of Money now in the same the amount asked for ($100,000) could not at present be spared—and that in consequence he could advance now but $50,000 which was enclosed. M^r. H also reported the receipt of this sum and its payment over to the Treasurer of the Committee

M^r. Hamilton also submitted to the Committee his reply to this communication of the Governor in which he mentioned the character and importance of the Defence Works now in progress at this point, and stated that the Congress having failed to make the required appropriation the Engineers in charge of these works would have been without Money weeks ago but for the advances made by the Committee. That Genl Leadbetter had stated that if the Committee would carry him through his payments for March he hoped to be able to refund in April. M^r. H. also expressed on behalf of the Committee that in view of the present condition of these works, should further demands be made, the Governor would find it his power to lend the aid required. A short statement of the account of the Treasurer of the Committee was also enclosed in this communication.

The above mentioned account showed

MARCH 30, 1863.

M^r Hamilton reported a letter from Genl Rains in relation to supplying Mobile with some of his Marine torpedoes and stating that as well as he could learn no application had been made by Genl Ledbetter. M^r H. also stated he had laid the communication before Genl L who stated that he was having some shells of the Rains pattern made here and had made application to Col Gilman for slaves from Richmond

M^r Hamilton reported that upon the application of Genl Ledbetter he had promised Genl Ledbetter an additional $25,000

M^r Hamilton also stated he had called the attention of Gov. Shorter to the fact that M^r Magee British Consul had been dismissed by the English Govt for permitting the specie forwarded by the states for the payment of interest to leave the port in a British Man of War.

APRIL 1st 1863.

M^r Hamilton reported a communication from the Governor enclosing copies of his correspondence with the Secretary of War and Major General Buckner commanding at Mobile in relation to Bay and River Boats being allowed to leave this port for the purpose of running the Blockade.

Also a letter from Genl Rains on the subject of submarine shells, which letter M^r H reported he had laid before Genl. Leadbetter, who informed him he was casting some of these shells here and had made a requisition for others.

M^r Hamilton also reported that as directed by the General Committee he had drawn on the Treasurer in favor of E. H. Angamor for $4,000—as a further advance to him to be used in the construction of his Rocket Boat

Also for the sum of $50—in favor of Col C. C. Langdon to reimburse him his Expenses to Vicksburg.

APRIL 2nd 1863

Mr Hamilton reported a communication from the Governor in reply to one from himself enclosing a statement from the account of the Treasurer of the Committee of Safety—in which his Excellency declared the account satisfactory and assured the Committee of his continued support in their efforts to complete the defences of the city

Also another communication from the Governor in relation to the recent action of the Government of Great Britain in the removal of James Magee Esq Consul of that Government at this Port.

Col Dunn Chairman of the General Committee laid before this committee a communication from Major S. B. Buckner announcing that measures had been taken to prevent the departure of Bay & River Boats hence to run the Blockade.

Also a communication from Leroy E. Douglas formerly of the Engineers Department in relation to the claim of certain parties for shovels & spades impressed for use upon the fortifications.

APRIL 4th 1863

Mr Hamilton reported a letter from Hon. E. S. Dargan Representative in Congress from this District in answer to a letter from him requesting his attention to getting through the appropriation for the defensive works about Mobile which he reported he had laid before Genl Leadbetter who has since informed him he had at once written to Col Gilmer Chief of Engineers at Richmond on the subject.

APRIL 7th 1863.

Mr Hamilton reported a letter from his Excellency the Governor enclosing one from him to Genl Leadbetter in answer to an application from that officer for a further advance of funds from the State and announcing the remittance, to be disposed of by the Committee, of $100,000 in State change Bills—from which advances if needed are to be made to Genl Leadbetter.

Genl Leadbetter laid before the Committee a communication from Col. Gilmer Chief of Engineers at Richmond touching Mr E. F Angamors experimental tests of an invention to destroy ships of our enemy and the action of the safety Committee of Mobile in relation to the same—and upon motion the matter was referred to the General Committee for their consideration.

APRIL 8th 1863

Mr D. Wheeler, Treasurer reported the receipt of a Box from the State Treasurer containing $50,000 in change Bills.

A Communication was received from Genl Leadbetter requesting a further loan of $50,000. Whereupon a draft for that amount upon the Treasurer was by direction of the Committee to be given him by the Chairman.

A communication was received from Major Trueheard Chief of Artillery upon the staff of General Buckner informing the Committee that Mr. Conner of Mobile had invented a breech loading rifled gun the model of which he (Major T) had examined and found satisfactory and that he was anxious to have one of these guns built and requesting the Committee to advance a sufficient amount ($2000) for that purpose.

To which Communication the Chairman as directed replied that his drafts upon the Treasurer of the Committee for that amount would be honored but that the Committee desired him if possible to obtain the proper authority from Richmond so that their advance might be at some time refunded.

APRIL 14th 1863

D. Wheeler Esq. Treasurer reported the Receipt by him yesterday of an additional $50,000 in change Bills from the State Treasurer

APRIL 15. 1863

On Motion it was resolved that Col E. H. Angamor be authorized to employ forty men for service in his Rickett Boat for twenty days at the rate of $2.50 per day if that amount be necessary. It is expected however that these men can be obtained by application to Adml Buchanan by detachment from the vessels under his command on leave to volunteer.

APRIL 17th 1863.

A further advance of $1000 was made to Col. E. H. Angamor.

Mr. Hamilton reported a letter from His Excellency the Governor enclosing a communication from the Secretary of War of the Confederate States on the subject of running the Blockade with River Steamers. In this Communication the Secretary of War whilst concurring with the views of the Governor as to the impolicy of allowing such boats to leave port, declines action in the premises and suggests that such interposition would more appropriately proceed from his Excellency.

APRIL 24. 1863

Mr. Gage reported that the owners of Steam Boats that had been chartered to Engineer Department had repeatedly applied to him for payment of the charter money from the Safety Committee and insisted that he should see them paid—and that the chairman had waited on Genl Leadbetter who said it was out of his power to pay these claims because Congress had not passed the appropriation Bills, but as soon as Congress acted he would settle these a/c. Whereupon the chairman was directed to communicate the facts to the Governor and request further advance to pay off these demands which had been contracted under the auspices of the Committee—The Chairman reported he had made a further advance of $500 to Col. Angamor.

Apl. 27. The Chairman reported he had written to Gov Shorter as directed.

APRIL 28th 1863

The Treasurer reported \$1978 $\frac{14}{100}$ Dollars balance in the Treasury April 28th

The Chairman communicated an application by Col Angamor for $750 to purchase articles immediately needed. Col A engaged to refund this and the last payment of $500 from moneys he was to receive from Engineer Dept stating he did not expect to call for any Money above the $25000 already received on this representation and promise of speedy repayment, the Money was directed to be forwarded him.

APRIL 30 1863.

The chairman reported a letter from Gov. Shorter stating he had remitted by express $50.000 as requested. The Treasurer reported receipt of that amount.

The fact that Genl Buckner had been relieved of the command of this Dept was mentioned—Whereupon the Chairman was directed to apply to the Governor of the state and to Secretary of War in the name of the Committee suggesting the name of Genl Mackall as the officer whom the citizens would desire to see appointed.

MAY 1st 1863.

Chairman reported that he had written to the Governor and Secretary of War as directed at last meeting of Committee.

MAY 4th 1863.

Mr. Gage who was charged with the adjustment of charges against the Engineer Department for charters of steamboats heretofore entered into by that Department through the agency of the Committee reported that the amount due on those charges up to 1st inst was $45,990. and that he had paid accordingly that amount, which had been advanced to him by direction of the Committee—and that he had filed the vouchers therefor with the Engineers Dept.

MAY 13. 1863

The Chairman reported to the Committee a letter from the Governor acknowledging receipt of communication in relation to the appointment of Genl Mackall to the command at Mobile approving the action of the Committee and stating he had earnestly seconded the suggestion both as to that and the placing of troops at Mobile.

MAY 16. 1863

The chairman communicated a request from Genl Slaughter that the Committee would assist in providing transportation for the refugees from New Orleans now assembled at Pascagoula. Mr. Wilson was charged with the matter and subsequently reported that he found a number of Government Wagons near that point, and had procured an order that they should be used for that purpose—and also that upon the promise of Committee to furnish drays for use if needed in the City the Genl in Command had directed other wagons about 20 in number to be sent down to assist the Refugees.

MOBILE JUNE 1st 1863.

Mr. Hamilton reported a letter from the Governor Enclosing a communication from the President of the Confederate States in reply to a letter heretofore forwarded by him from Mr. Hamilton in relation to the withdrawal of troops &c from Mobile.

JUNE 25 1863.

The Committee having directed that $75,000 of the money heretofore advanced by the State be returned to the State Treasury, the Chairman reported that he had advised his Excellency the Governor that that sum was subject to his direction.

JULY 1st 1863

The Chairman reported a letter from his Excellency desiring the $75,000 should be deposited in the Bank of Mobile to the credit of D. B. Graham State Treasurer and certificates forwarded to him.

JULY 4th 1863.

In pursuance of previous directions of His Excellency the Governor, the Treasurer was directed to deposit $75,000 in the Bank of Mobile to the credit of D B Graham State Treasurer.

JULY 15th 1863.

Under the order of the General Committee appropriating $100,000 It was ordered that the sum of $20,000 be placed in the hands of Mayor Stewart wherewith to purchase provisions for the city of Mobile, in the event of its attack by the Enemy, his purchases to be made under instructions received from the Mobile Supply Association.

D^r Carter was directed to inquire and report the progress being made by M^r Wingard in the completion of the gun contracted for by him.

JULY 17th 1863.

Chairman reported he had handed the Supply Association $20,000 as previously directed by the Committee.

JULY 19.

M^r Lyon stated the difficulty he had found in constructing the Wingard gun viz Want of Workmen and proper tools, but that if the services of M^r Connor Supt of Armory could be obtained he would be able soon to finish it. He reported that he had two skilled workmen now engaged on the gun. The chairman therefore applied to the Chief of Ordnance for the services of M^r Connor which he reported would be allowed

JULY 22 1863

The Chairman reported that the rifling of the Wingard gun had been begun under the direction of M^r Connor.

JULY 24. 1863.

The Chairman was directed to advance an additional $15,000 to the Supply Association which was done. On further conference it was determined that the money directed to be used in the purchase of provisions should be turned over to the Supply Association as they called for it, They agreeing to manage it and keep separate Account of their operations with this capital its proceeds & expenses

The Chairman reported an interview with Capt Travis in relation to a new double barrellled peice [sic] of light artillery now building by him and that would be ready for exhibition in a few days

JULY 29 1863

Mr Wingard made application for another payment upon his gun contract with the statement that it was more than half finished. Whereupon the Chairman called upon Major Bennett Chief of Artillery upon the Staff of General Maury, who promised to examine the gun and inform the Committee.

AUGUST 3 1863.

The application of Mr. Wingard for the payment of $2000 additional on the ground of the gun being more than half finished was presented to the Committee with the certificate of Major Burnett that in his opinion the gun is more than half finished. It was determined that inasmuch as so much time had elapsed since the date fixed by contract for the completion of the gun and the Committee having no assurance of the time when the gun will be finished it was determined that the additional money asked for shall not be paid and the Chairman was directed to notify the Contractors that having failed in their contract no more money would be advanced & that they had become liable to refund the money already advanced and for damages for the default they had committed. Which notice was at once written by the Chairman and handed Mr Wingard in the presence of the Committee. The Chairman was directed to draw his order on the Treasurer in favor of R. B. Owen for Salary heretofore agreed upon $30 per month 1st inst. The rate of further payment to be determined hereafter.

AUGUST 5 1863

A verbal application was made in behalf of the Supply Association, suggesting the propriety of making use of a portion of the fund authorized to be used in the purchase of provisions to the erection in this city of a grist and flour mill. It seemed to the Committee that the object was desirable & important, and if possible it should at once be secured. The Association by its Secretary stated that probably $10,000 would procure all the machinery that was needed and that necessary room could be obtained free of expense in any of the cotton presses.

On consideration of these matters it was determined to authorize the Association to use the sum of $10,000 for the purpose above stated.
